DEMONSTRATION SPONSORED BY "THE RESISTANCE"

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past advised on September 17, 1968, that at a meeting of "The Resistance" held on September 10, 1968, at Los Angeles, California, reference was made to the fact that the trials of both William David Garaway and Christian Winslow Hayden for violation of the Selective Service Act would commence in Los Angeles, California, on September 24, 1968. Garaway stated that a vigil would commence at the United States Court House at 7:00 A.M., and he urged that people pack the court rooms. Garaway stated that at his trial there would probably be some civil disobedience.

On September 24, 1968, a Special Agent of the FBI observed that approximately 40 persons, male and female, were congregated in a small group on the steps of the United States Court House, 312 North Spring Street in Los Angeles. The participants were quiet and orderly and several members of their group passed out leaflets containing a poem by Christian Winslow Hayden and a statement of opposition to the war in Vietnam.

At approximately 9:15 A.M., participants of the demonstration entered the United States Court House and proceeded to the court room where the trials of Garaway and Hayden were being held.

The proceedings in the court room were orderly. There were no incidences of disorders or disobedience in the court house during or following the trials.

"The Resistance" is self described in its literature as "---a group of young men determined to act. Anyone and everyone can join.---Resistance is active and offensive, not passive and defensive. We will provoke continued confrontations with this war government. They're in an insoluble dilemna; they can prosecute and imprison us which will bring new waves of protest and dissent of unsurpassed intensity, or they can set us free, which will generate impetus for the expansion of movement. Either way, we will gain ground and support and new members."

RESISTANCE NEWSLETTER

September 26, 1968

REPORT ON NSA (NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION) CONVENTION

Response to the Resistance at the annual National Student Association Convention last month in Manhattan, Kansas, seemed to indicate our message of non-cooperation will be well received on campuses this fall.

Except for a draft-card turn-in, NSA presented the usual scene of radical rhetoric but little committment. The draft-card turn-in on the Congress floor culminated a week-long series of Resistance workshops, meetings and individual discussions----all highlighted by an evening of speeches by David Harris, and Mike "Boston Four" Ferber before a packed convention auditorium.

Standing ovations punctuated both Harris' and Ferber's talks and continued when resistant Wayne Hayashi, member of the University of Hawaii delegation, spontaneously read his April 3rd letter to his draft board and burned a draft card the Board sent him.

The initial question following these emotional outbursts perhaps told the story: "Why do we who stand and applaud still have draft cards?" Judging by discussion afterward the answer is "fear" of the consequences.

By the end of the week fifteen individuals overcame that fear as a hushed convention floor looked on. Three draft cards and a dozen complicity statements were collected during a moving ceremony that interrupted the passage of resolutions supporting student power, ending racism and the abolition of the draft.

The number of participants wasn't nearly indicative of our support as we deliberately talked a number of student leaders into waiting until they returned to their campuses to return or destroy their cards. Those making commitments included a Maring veteran with thirteem months combat in Vietnam, an Army veteran and a number of NSA staff members.

Representing Resistance were Dave Hauk, NSA staffer from Union Theological Seminary, Paul Rupert, Palo Alto Resistance, Rick Boardman, CADRE, Ron Young, Fellowship of Reconciliation, prison expert Paul Salstrom, and myself. Aside from moving many individuals toward a deeper commitment we collected many contacts that may prove useful this fall as students begin to feel the crush of the draft directly for the first time.

Bill Garaway

REPORT ON TRIALS

Joe Maizlish, the only L.A. Resister thus far convicted, is now living in Safford, Arizona. The day of Joe's sentencing in Judge Stephen's court gare us a good indication of how effective the method Joe had used to confront the courts had been. After pronouncing sentence (the "gentlemen's agreement"---3 years), the judge was so shaken that he immediately turned and left the courtroom, not noticing that there were no U.S. Marshals in the room at that time. The clerk and bailiff, being similarly shaken, were also unaware. But Joe wasn't; with court adjourned and no constraint, Joe turned and walked from the courtroom, down the hallway, excalator, and out the door of the building. During this walk he was conversing with about 50 of us concerning his plans for the rest of the day. "I think I'll just go enjoy the sun on the beach today." But by this time the marshals, preceded by the clerk of the court, came charging out the front door of the Federal Courthouse after Joe. Joe went limp, surrounded closely by those of us present, to the strains of "We Shall Overcome" being whistled, hummed, and sung, as he was handcuffed and hauled away--over, around, and through the bodies of his brothers.

Joe......continued (and other trial reports.)

Joe's day on the beach became a day in the Hall of "Justice" Jail.

David Harris and Jeffrey Shurtleff, present at the sentencing debacle, led about 100 people from the Resistance meeting that night in a serenade to Joe and his fellow prisoners following the meeting. At the meeting itself David presented a moving plea for a more intense committment from those of us still outside as the response to Joe's being forced to change the arena for his work.

The next two L.A. Resisters to face trial are Christian Hayden and Bill Garaway. Both go on trial September 24, a Tuesday morning. (As a side note: today is thd 24th, and after a vigil and communion of brotherhood service this morning, we entered the courthouse. Christian has been acquitted (!) and Bill's trial is still going on, will probably end tomorrow (Wednesday, Sept. 25). Verdict on Bill will be added later in this brief newsletter.) Bill is representing himself, as did Joe, but is being assisted by attorney Michael Greene. His trial is at 9:30 in the courtroom of Judge Curtis. Christian, represented by Hugh Manes, is scheduled for 9:30 also, before Judge Ferguson. Once again we whould try to pack the courtrooms in support of our brothers.

On October 1, Neil Brown is scheduled for trial in the court of Judge Crary. He id being assisted by attorney Alan Saltzman. Neil has indicated that he does intend to attempt further delays in his processing before imprisonment to gain further opportunities to carry out this work. We should aid him by our support at each and every step of the way. The trial starts at 9:20 A.M.

Also on October 1, non-registrant Greg Nelson has been scheduled for trial in Judge Stephen's court (good old Judge Stephens). However, at this moment it appears that his trial will run through Wednesday Oct. 2, so people should try to attend both days. You will probably be called about this, as there may be a change, but we will try to contact you as to the exact time of Greg's trial.

On October 22, Peter Marx, an attorney who has worked with Resistance hand-in-hand and been a true brother to many of us, goes on trial for refusal to submit to induction in the court of Judge Whelan at 9:30 am. A show of strength at all these trials seems to be a most important and integral part of the present, and next, phase of Resistance work. A final plea, your presence in support of these Resisters is needed and desired. Do you still have a draft card? If so, why? Shouldn't it better burn the pocket of a U.S. District Attorney than your own? Let them get the blood in their laundry, not us!!!

More notes on Bill Garaway's trial: After a somewhat lengthy trial, Judge Curtis ordered the jury to find Bill guilty. After the jury returned from 30 minutes of deliberations with a verdict of guilty, Judge Curtis gave his reasons for his instructions to the jury. He said that it has been many years since the higher courts (Appellate, Supreme) had interpreted the definition of the words intent and compulsion (among others). However, since they had made prior decisions, it was not for a lower court to re-define those terms, and that by his actions, an appeal would undoubtedly be carried to a higher court, and perhaps the courts would re-define the terms and thus new law would come about.

ACTION COMMUNICATION CENTER

On Monday, September 23, three representatives of the Resistance attended an open meeting to discuss the setting up of an "Action Communication Center" in the Los Angeles area. The purpose of the Center would be to set up a telephone network for rapid communications in times of crisis and for general spreading of information during other times among concerned persons in the L.A. area. Also planned were a monthly mailing to we activists in the area about social and political "happenings" for mutual support and for a general knowledge of occurences in the radical movements in our area. For the purpose of getting this mailing out, each group has been asked to submit the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of its participants and supporters so that as many concerned persons as possible will be in the communication chain. We have decided to give this project our support, and so we are giving the Action~~x~~ Communication Center our General Mailing and Phone List. However, we realize that some of you for various reasons may not wish your names, addresses, and telephone numbers to go out to this organization. If you do object, please write us a note by Thursday, ~~September~~ October 3rd, and we will ~~xxx~~ see that your name is taken of of the lists.

At the present time, the Center has set up "Dial-An-Issue", a daily telephone message which lets the activist community know daily about some of the more significant things taking place in the greater Los Angeles community. The telephone number to call for "Dial-An-Issue" is 386-6766, or, if you prefer, just dial the word (?) DUMORON.

Action Communication Center and "Dial-An-Issue" were begun by concerned churchmen and non-churchmen in this area. It promises to be a fruitful and productive project for all of us.

MEET THE YOUNG MEN OF THE RESISTANCE

Most of our supporters have given much financial and physical help to the Resistance. But few of them have personally met the boys that they are so beautifully supporting. On Saturday evening, from 4:30 to 10:00, the Resistance will hold an open house and buffet dinner, at the First Unitarian Church, 8th Street and Vermont Ave. Please come; we'd love to have you. There will be good food and good rapping.

RESISTANCE RAP

The Resistance will initiate again a series of discussions to explain the Resistance movement and life style. These raps will be open to the public and will be held at the Omega House (Central Office), 2819 W. Francis Ave. 382-4447. Come every Sunday night, at 7:30.

SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT 1948
SEDITION

On October 1, 1968, Gregory King Nelson, Vice Chairman of The Resistance, Los Angeles, California, failed to appear in U.S. District Court, Central District of California, following his indictment by a Federal Grand Jury at Los Angeles, California in August 1968, charging him with violation of Title 50, Appendix 462, U.S. Code. Nelson sent a letter to Judge Albert Lee Stephens, Jr. which stated that because he could not receive justice in a court, he was taking refuge in a church. A bench warrant was issued for Nelson's arrest on October 1, 1968.

Source One on October 1, 1968, advised that Nelson planned to take refuge in Grace Episcopal Church, 441 West 78th Street, Los Angeles, California on the evening of October 1, 1968 and had the support of approximately 40 to 50 individuals who were requesting that members of various peace groups, within the Los Angeles area, appear at the church and bring food, friends, and musical instruments in sufficent quanity to last for one and a half days.

On the evening of October 1, 1968, U.S. Marshals, Los Angeles, California, appeared at Grace Episcopal Church to effect the arrest of Nelson. Upon their arrival, Nelson with 12 other individuals chained themselves together at the wrists. The U.S. Marshal severed Nelson's chains and his arrest was effected.

Source Two advised that a crowd of approximately 50 to 75 people were present in and around the church at the time of Nelson's arrest, this group dispersed without incident, following the arrest.

> "The Resistance" is self described in its literature as "a group of young men determined to act. Anyone and everyone can join. Resistance is active and offensive not passive and defensive. Youth Accused of Draft Violation Seized in Church

BY LINDA MATHEWS
Times Staff Writer

A 19-year-old accused of draft violation was arrested by U.S. marshals Tuesday after he took sanctuary in a South-Central Los Angeles church and chained himself to clergymen and other supporters.

Marshals wielding 2-foot-long metal shears broke up the "service of brotherhood" at Grace Episcopal Church, 441 W. 78th St., and cut the chains with which Gregory K. Nelson had bound himself to the others.

A bench warrant was issued for Nelson's arrest early Tuesday by U.S. Judge Albert Lee Stephens Jr. after the youth failed to appear in court at 10 a.m. as ordered.

Nelson, of 1018 Pacific St., Santa Monica, was charged with failure to registe draft.

Unable to Stop Marshals

Nelson's mother, Mrs. Lois Nelson, 44, a bookkeeper, was one of the 50 people who clustered around Nelson to prevent his arrest. But they were unable to stop the marshals.

About a dozen persons, including the Rev. Harlan Weitzel, 37, executive director of the Los Angeles chapter of Clergy and Laymen Concerned about the War in Vietnam, were bound to Nelson by a 30-foot link chain.

Before the arrest, they sang hymns and protest songs and shared a loaf of bread which had been blessed by the Rev. Morris V. Samuel, 39, rector of Grace Episcopal Church. Father Samuel declined to chain himself to Nelson.

Nelson, an Episcopalian, explained that he chose this method of protest, rather than appear in court, because "it was useless to go before Judge Stephens."

"The court won't recognize why I did what I did (refuse to register), it won't listen to the facts of the Nuremberg trials, when Nazis were executed for participating in a war they knew was wrong.

"I've seen other trials and decided it was useless to try to change the judge's mind. So I came to the church because I church migh

A VOTE FOR LIFE

Half of us supposedly can't vote. We're too young--or so they say. Old enough to hold hands, to be a father (with parental consent, of course), to work in dad's business. Old enough to obey the law--and better be qui about it. Old enough to die for an M-1's cause, but not old enough to vote.

Half of us supposedly can vote. Suddenly, presto, we're old enough--or so they say. But what kind of a choice do we have? "Tricky Dick" Nixon--half full of tricks--more war on the battlefield and more tricks at the conference table. "Humpty Dumpty" Humphrey--sitting on the wall, watching all the soldiers fall. Here at home--an emasculated whisper of dissent or a bloodied noggin.

THE POINT IS THAT ON THIS NOVEMBER 5TH, NOBODY CAN VOTE MEANINGFULLY. MACE OR TEAR GAS, TANKS OR MISSILES, DICK OR HUBERT--TAKE YOUR PICK.

Some choice. And yet we applaud the show, try to swallow our disgust, and even pay the pipers. We pay by selling out our ideals. We accept the Selective Service System, guiltily stick that 2-S in our wallets, and cop out on all our brothers. The war goes on. Heads keep getting busted. Sons still die and mothers still cry. Wallets grow fatter and consciences more penniless.

Aren't you tired of this bloody farce? The empty words and iron fists? Sick of a dollar in your hand and an M-1 in your heart? Don't you really want to choose, to really make a decision that matters, matters because it could save YOUR AND YOUR BROTHER'S LIFE?

THEN VOTE WITH THE REST OF THE RESISTANCE. ON NOVEMBER 14TH, ALL ACROSS THIS NATION, WE ARE GOING TO STOP PAYING GENERAL HERSHEY'S PIPERS BY TURNING IN OUR DRAFT (SLAVE) CARDS. AS FREE BROTHERS WE'RE GOING TO TELL UNCLE SAM WHAT HE CAN DO WITH HIS HYSTERICAL TRIGGER FINGER. ALL OF US ARE GOING TO VOTE----TO VOTE FOR LIFE.

"The meeting started with MICHAEL FERBER speaking under the topic 'What Is To Be Done?' He avocates all youth, even at the high school evel, becomming involved in such problems as the draft now instead of waiting for a Revolution. He stresses working from within the system to bring about change instead of destroying it. His position seemed to be strongly supported by the majority of the audience. After his speech, BILL GARRAWAY (The Resistance) and WALTER BREMMEN (Los Angeles Block Council) presented him with awards for his position. Two singers also preformed; BETTY REID (Unitarian-Mount Diablo Church) from Walnut Creek, California, who also noteably preformed at last October's Oakland Induction Center Demonstration and Black Unitarian LEN CHANDELER who is currently employed for radio station KRLA's satirical anti-establishment news broadcasts.

"The meeting lasted from 8:00 to about 10:30 pm and then we adjourned to the patio for informal conversation. I first spoke to two older women, PAULA and GOLDIE NESTGA who are L.A. Unitarians. I then signed my old friend NEIL BROWN, who was representing the Resistance and is now living in a Resistance commune located nearby, NEIL had refused induction earlier this year and is now awaiting trial. (As far as NEIL will acknowledge, his group has no connection with the bombing of the Hollywood Draft Board). He attended the meeting with his mother and her husband. I also saw DONALD KALISH who is with the Philosophy Department at UCLA. I talked for quite a while with WILLIAM and EVELYN CARR (Peace and Freedom, Pro-Socialist) from from the San Fernando Valley who are friends of the family of NEIL BROWN. They introduced me to ABE and EVELYN LEARNER (Peace and Freedom) who were later joining them and the BROWNs for a party. It was called to my attention that JULES REMY, founder of the Black Unitarians For Radical Reform was also in attendance. We stayed on the patio conversing until about 11:30 or 12:00 p.m."

On Nov. 14, the Resistance will grow. Young men across the country will return their draft cards to the government, expressing their refusal to support the American military -- refusing not with words of peace and cries of anger, but with their lives. They know that they could protest loudly against war and oppression -- for the blacks and for oppressed whites -- but they also know that these protests would be ignored. For the government, while not requiring silence, demands that dissent remain inactive. It demands that our opposition to the war must not develop into action which obstructs the progress of the war. The Vietnamese peasants who act in opposition to American war efforts face death. We face only a few years in prison. We must now act to end our collaboration with the war, or tomorrow both our country and the world will reap the bitter fruits of American policies.

If we are honest with ourselves, we will admit that none of us wish to carry draft cards. But we carry them anyway. We carry them out of fear. We carry them because we have been told that it would be "politically ineffective" to return them; we become trapped in our own elaborate rhetoric. Somehow we think that we can end a war fought by the most powerful military establishment in history, without some sacrifice. For some reason we seem to believe that peace will come even while we acquiesce and grant the tools of war legitimacy in our own lives. We seem to think that freedom can come easily, that we must dodge prison terms which could remove us from the struggle. Such thinking is possible only for those who believe that this war is just a tragic mistake which will end and be followed by peace abroad and at home.

The young people of the Resistance know that war is part of the way America lives. They know too that if there is to be peace it must begin in their own lives, with their refusal to collaborate with those who make war. If we are to be free, and if we are to help liberate our brothers in the ghetto, the army and the countries America chooses to dominate, we must first remove ourselves from the institutions which seek to divide and silence us all and thus control us. We must begin to practice the values of truth and honesty which we proclaim, and reject in fact the values that we condemn in words. In the face of a dis-integrating nation, we must begin to build the spirit of community, to make 'peace' a living word.

We ask you to take hold of your own life. The dead and the living of Vietnam and Guatemala are calling on you. Our dead American brothers can speak no more, and those who continue fighting will die while we decry the war but continue to pursue our deferments. Those men who have gone to prison for draft resistance are asking that you join them in the struggle. Those of us who no longer have draft cards want you with us. The time grows short and the demands are great.

Source one advised that on November 14, 1968, The Resistance has planned for a nationwide protest in that all interested persons, along with members of The Resistance, have been encouraged to turn in their draft cards to the United States Government.

> "The Resistance" is self described in its literature as "---a group of young men determined to act. Anyone and everyone can join. ---Resistance is active and offensive, not passive and defensive. We will provoke continued confrontations with this war government. They're in an insoluble dilemma; they can prosecute and imprison us which will bring new waves of protest and dissent of unsurpassed intensity, or they can set us free, which will generate impetus for the expansion of the movement. Either way, we will gain ground and support and new members".

Source one provided a leaflet entitled "A Vote for Life", distributed by The Resistance within the Los Angeles, California, area. This leaflet states that members of The Resistance intend to turn in their draft cards on November 14 and encourage others to do the same. Copy attached.

Source two provided a leaflet entitled "Resist the Draft November 14", which stipulates reasons draft cards should not be carried and encourages individuals to return their draft cards as an expression of refusal to support the American military. Copy attached.

A VOTE NO ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

Half of us supposedly can't vote. We're too young--or so they say. Old enough to hold hands, to be a father (with parental consent, of course), to work in dad's business. Old enough to obey the law--and better be qui about it. Old enough to die for an M-1's cause, but not old enough to vote.

Half of us supposedly can vote. Suddenly, presto, we're old enough--or so they say. But what kind of a choice do we have? "Tricky Dick" Nixon--half full of tricks--more war on the battlefield and more tricks at the conference table. "Humpty Dumpty" Humphrey--sitting on the wall, watching all the soldiers fall. Here at home--an emasculated whisper of dissent or a bloodied noggin.

THE POINT IS THAT ON THIS NOVEMBER 5TH, NOBODY CAN VOTE MEANINGFULLY. MACE OR TEAR GAS, TANKS OR MISSILES, DICK OR HUBERT--TAKE YOUR PICK.

Some choice. And yet we applaud the show, try to swallow our disgust, and even pay the pipers. We pay by selling out our ideals. We accept the Selective Service System, guiltily stick that 2-S in our wallets, and cop out on all our brothers. The war goes on. Heads keep getting busted. Sons still die and mothers still cry. Wallets grow fatter and consciences more penniless.

Aren't you tired of this bloody farce? The empty words and iron fists? Sick of a dollar in your hand and an M-1 in your heart? Don't you really want to choose, to really make a decision that matters, matters because it could save YOUR AND YOUR BROTHER'S LIFE?

THEN VOTE WITH THE REST OF THE RESISTANCE. ON NOVEMBER 14TH, ALL ACROSS THIS NATION, WE ARE GOING TO STOP PAYING GENERAL HERSHEY'S PIPERS BY TURNING IN OUR DRAFT (SLAVE) CARDS. AS FREE BROTHERS WE'RE GOING TO TELL UNCLE SAM WHAT HE CAN DO WITH HIS HYSTERICAL TRIGGER FINGER. ALL OF US ARE GOING TO VOTE----TO VOTE FOR LIFE.

RESIST THE DRAFT
NOV. 14

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

On Nov. 14, the Resistance will grow. Young men across the country will return their draft cards to the government, expressing their refusal to support the American military -- refusing not with words of peace and cries of anger, but with their lives. They know that they could protest loudly against war and oppression -- for the blacks and for oppressed whites -- but they also know that these protests would be ignored. For the government, while not requiring silence, demands that dissent remain inactive. It demands that our opposition to the war must not develop into action which obstructs the progress of the war. The Vietnamese peasants who act in opposition to American war efforts face death. We face only a few years in prison. We must now act to end our collaboration with the war, or tomorrow both our country and the world will reap the bitter fruits of American policies.

If we are honest with ourselves, we will admit that none of us wish to carry draft cards. But we carry them anyway. We carry them out of fear. We carry them because we have been told that it would be "politically ineffective" to return them; we become trapped in our own elaborate rhetoric. Somehow we think that we can end a war fought by the most powerful military establishment in history, without some sacrifice. For some reason we seem to believe that peace will come even while we acquiesce and grant the tools of war legitimacy in our own lives. We seem to think that freedom can come easily, that we must dodge prison terms which could remove us from the struggle. Such thinking is possible only for those who believe that this war is just a tragic mistake which will end and be followed by peace abroad and at home.

The young people of the Resistance know that war is part of the way America lives. They know too that if there is to be peace it must begin in their own lives, with their refusal to collaborate with those who make war. If we are to be free, and if we are to help liberate our brothers in the ghetto, the army and the countries America chooses to dominate, we must first remove ourselves from the institutions which seek to divide and silence us all and thus control us. We must begin to practice the values of truth and honesty which we proclaim, and reject in fact the values that we condemn in words. In the face of a dis-integrating nation, we must begin to build the spirit of community, to make 'peace' a living word.

We ask you to take hold of your own life. The dead and the living of Vietnam and Guatemala are calling on you. Our dead American brothers can speak no more, and those who continue fighting will die while we decry the war but continue to pursue our deferments. Those men who have gone to prison for draft resistance are asking that you join them in the struggle. Those of us who no longer have draft cards want you with us. The time grows short and the demands are great.

"MICHAEL FERBER spoke on the topic of: New Directions For The Anti-War Movement. In short, he made an " "expose " of 'man-power channeling' in the Selective Service System and the 'person-to-person' relationships involved in building a revolution. Negro protest-singers BETTY REID and LEN CHANDLER (Radio station KRLA) entertained those present with protest songs.

"Crowd Breakdown

"I would estimate that there were approximately 250 people present. Of those present I would estimate 1/3 were members of the Unitarian Church, 1/3 from the "Resistance" and the remaining 1/3 from B.U.R.R. and from other groups. It was also announced the Dr. BENJ. SPOCK would speak at the church the following Sunday (Sept.22) at 10:00 AM.

"Duration: 8 p.m. - 10:25 p.m. (approx.)

"No. Present: Approx. 60-65

"Agenda:

"Meeting opened with discussion on JOE MAZELICH (correct accuracy) with a letter being written form him, from prison in Arizona. A resistor, who had visited him, told those present to write to JOE but put no name or address on outside of envelope, as all letters are opened and since JOE can't receive them, anyway, the prison officials would, out of curiosity, have to open them to see if there was an address inside. This would, at least, give them some extra work and annoyance in the process.

"One girl stated she writes to the induction center with just a first initial and last name, condemning the draft system, saying 'he' will not go, having just received 'his' draft notice. Question arose saying since name and address is given and last name being correct, even with just a first initial, won't the F.B.I. visit these persons writing such letters. The girl said no one has come to visit her, thus far, and if they do and she expects they will sooner or later, nothing could be done since it is true what she wrote and the initial and last name were correct, it will at least keep the F.B.I. busy having to check all these persons out and that is what the F.B.I. is for and getting paid for, so let them do more work and cost the gov. more money and expenses for overtime, which the agents should enjoy, as they wouldn't work overtime for nothing.

"RICHARD PROFUMO announced he will refuse induction for the third time, Thursday, Sept. 12. Persons who wish to support him, should meet at 6:30 or 7 a.m., then, later they would march to the Guatelama Consul, 412 W. 6th St., L.A. where they would leaflet. A lot of foot-traffic goes by and many can be reached, since Guatelama is getting to be an important issue and could be the next Vietnam.

"Draft counseling to begin next week, and those wishing to help or receive counsel, call the office for who will be teaching and where classes will be held, was announced.

"HAYDEN's trial to come up also another's, and hopes for a packed court room for both was hoped for. Call office for dates and court rooms, was announced.

"Guerilla warfare of draft cards collecting and burning in the colleges (U.C.L.A., Cal State, Long Beach and others) in a mass rally will start and get a date set, as soon as school begins. Also, hight school students will be getting draft educations in forming high school resisters groups, soon as school begins.

"FERBER, who was arrested and sentenced with Dr. SPOCK, will speak Saturday night, Sept. 14, at 8 p.m. at the First Unitarian Church, 2936 W. 8th St., L.A. Tickets were for sale for $2.00 each. Hoped a welcoming reception could be held Sat. p.m. or Sun. p.m. at the Francis House (Frances) which is several doors away from the church, on Francis Street. (Frances - 20 some hundred address).

It was announced that November 14, will be the next Resist Day. This time there will be no collage, but there will be small card turn-ins in several areas. It is thought that they get better publicity this way. Some men will probably go into sanctuaries (churches), and there will probably be more card turn-ins there. There may be some card turn-ins to newsmen, possibly on TV.

It was said that some men have considered getting handcuffs and when they are interviewed or arrested by the FBI they will reverse the procedure and handcuff themselves to the agent.

It was announced that a group called AVILA (Avoid a Vietnam In Latin America) may picket the Guatamala (consulate ?) in Los Angeles. No date for this action was given.

John Haag, a candidate of the Peace and Freedom Party, spoke to the group. He said he wants Resistance support of his candidacy and he will also promote Resistance principles through the Peace and Freedom Party. He said he will try to be invited to speak at high schools, but, if he is not invited, he will go to high schools to speak anyway.

It was announced that on Sept. 14, Ferber and two others will speak at the First Unitarian Church. One half of the money will go to the Resistance and one half will go to the Black Unitarians.

Shirley Nelson
Ralph Wiggen
Arlene Farwell
CArter Barrett
John Schulz
Greg Nelson

Michael Greene
Bill Stefeneck
Mr. Reese

In the absence of William Smith, Herring conducted the meeting.

Also present in the house, but not attending this meeting were Lee Pestana and Beth Sullivan.

Carter Barrett is a defendant of the SSLC. He was brought to the meeting by David Easton.

Greg Nelson is from the Resistance. He came to this meeting to sell tickets to the Michael Ferber lecture which the Resistance is sponsoring. He also announced that a fund-raising cocktail party, at which Ferber will be the guest of honor, will be held at the home of Herbert Magidson.

John Schulz said he is a professor at the USC Law Center (phone 746-2102). He will teach a seminar in Selective Service Law this Fall. He said he began doing research while at Yale and will continue it in this seminar. He asked this group if they have any novel ideas for the research, which will be done mainly by the students. He said they may also do some empirical research. It was suggested that his students could watch members of the Federal Indigent Panel when they are defending men accused of selective service violations. The participants in the SSLC believe that the Indigent Panel is not providing competent defense for these men. They agreed that the empirical research which Schulz wants to do could provide evidence of this. This would include the number of prior selective service cases the panel member has handled, his knowledge of the law, the number of guilty pleas, the number of acquittals, and other similar information. It was said that the students could ask one or more questions of the Indigent Panel without causing them to become suspicious.

Greg Nelson said the Resistance has been gathering such information and that it is on file in the Resistance office. He said their statistics cover the period of January, 1968 to the present. He said that David Balduc (ph.) gets a list each Monday of the cases on the calender for that week. He tries to see the men and informs them that a panel of lawyers are ready to defend them. He said they give these names to the SSLC.

David Easton said he used to work in the U.S. Attorney's office.

Herring jokingly referred to Frank Pestana as "the representative from the People's Republic of China."

A brochure was displayed at this meeting which advertised a training conference for lawyers. It was titled "Selective Service Law and the Ghetto." It will be held at USC, Saturday, Sept. 21. It is sponsored by the Western Center on Law and Poverty. The brochure stated that this project "receives funds from the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity."

Farwell announced that a Draft Counseling seminar will be held at USC Religious Center, Saturday, Sept. 28. It will be sponsored by the Resistance and the Venice Draft Center. Attorney Dick Solomon (ph.) is organizing it, and Paul Encimer, of the Resistance, is assisting.

Herring announced that attorney Bernard Silvers will do research to assist any SSLC attorney, but will not defend cases himself.

Farwell read a rough draft of a letter which is to be sent to the physicians and psychiatrists (about 50 - 70, she said) used by this group and by most draft counselors in this area. She said Peter Marx had assisted her in writing it. The letter described in detail the type of medical report which should be written if a man is seeking a medical exemption. The letter included what the medical history should include, the symptoms, the doctor's diagnosis, a reference to the applicable section of the Army Medical Fitness Standards, and the prognosis. One sentence in the letter included the following "...the reports should be objective, but not neutral." Some of the lawyers made suggestions for the improvement of the letter. After the meeting, Farwell and David Finkel continued working on the letter.

Finkel said he is defending a man in federal court and he wants to know what approach Eric Noble (ph.) is going to take in prosecuting the case. Michael Greene said he is a good friend of Eric Noble. Greene said he will ask Noble about the case and tell Finkel. Greene will probably tell Noble why he wants this information.

Frank Pestana discussed the Porter case. He said he is going to try to see or get a copy of the minutes of the grand jury. He believes this would assist him in preparing his case.

Herring referred both F. Pestana and Easton to Counterdraft, #3, p. 6 or 8, on length of time to return a c.o. form. Easton will use it in the Carter Barrett case.

"MILITANT LABOR FORUM - 'WHAT HAPPENED IN CHICAGO'

"On Friday, September 20 at 8:30 to 11:00 pm I attended the Young Socialist Alliance sponsored Militant Labor Forum on 'What Happened in Chicago'. The crowd consisted of about 45 people, most of whom I've seen before at previous Forum meetings.

"Three speakers were featured; they each spoke for about 30 minutes. The first was Socialist lecturer MAX GELDMAN (perhaps established in Philadelphia?) who gave a Marxist analysis of the Democratic Convention comming to the conclusion that both candidates are equal representatives of the capitalist profit system that wishes to be the 'world Impearlist cop'.

"The second speaker presented an eye-witness report on the police-demonstrator confrontation of Chicago. Former Lance Corporal G. JAMES BOGGIO (co-ordinator, Vietnam Veternas Against the War) told how he and MARSHA SILVERSTEIN, MORRIS KITE (Dow Action Committee) and RICHARD ZACHER (The Resistance - L.A.) witnessed the awful brutality of Mayor DALEY's forces. Mr. BOGGIO's next public appearence will be on November 10 at the Veterans' Day Peace Parade, Los Angeles City Hall, 1:00 pm. The last speaker was JOHN GRAY (SWP candidate for Congress - 29th district) who spoke on the evils of the current two party system. October 3, 1968

Date- Tuesday, Oct. 1, 1968

Location- 441 W. 78th Street, L.A.
(The Grace Episcopal Church)

Duration- While set for 5 p.m., persons had started gathering at 4:40 p.m. News conference had been set for 5 p.m. Approx. 6:50 p.m. Gregory arrived and the speakers and he spoke until approx. 7:30-7:45 p.m. when upon his arrest the supporters and spectators began dispersing, or shortly thereafter.

No. Persons Attending- Approx. 30-35 in pulpit(behind) area, some of which had rushed forward to sit around Gregory prior to arrest by marshals, with others numbering approx. 60 in pulpit area(surrounding) and standing in pews, with unknown number in church entrance and outside.

Speakers- David Harris, Bill Speer(check for accuracy), and Harlan Weitzel also Gregory Nelson.

Agenda-

Set for 5.p.m. for a news conference, persons bgan gathering outside and inside the church, with press, radio and photographers including television cameraman being delayed due to Gregory's not having arrived yet. Federal marshals (rumored to be nine, including police in plainclothes) waited. There was one police car, in sight, sitting in driveway, just across the street, with others said to be waiting in a two-block area for Gregory's arrival. They, all, were going in and out of the church to see if he were in the church, with one gentleman (believed to be reporter) making statement that he didn't know but thought he was in the church somewhere, at least, that was what he had been told by some authority, in charge. No one seemed to know where he was, including his mother. Mother stated this is what Gregory wanted to do, instead of going to Canada, where he couldn't come back without fear of imprisonment. She stated this way of acting would be a new step and approach for the movement, his taking shelter in the church. She said she was nervous, and wasn't thinking about the future for she knew what he faced after this was over, and didn't want to think about his going to prison, yet. She stated his father wasn't there as she had no husband.

Approx. 15-20 persons chained themselves together, behind pulpit area. Rev. Harlan Weitzel was included, along with Gregory's brother. Others, in this area(couldn't see where chain extended to vertical-wise, as to which row) were Betty Connelly, Barbara Britten, Charles Britten, David Harris, Speer, Lynn Shoemaker, Darell(Darrel,(don't know last [illegible],)Dennis Durby, and others.

Guitar playing was carried out by Darell(Darrel) of resistance type, including "We Shall Overcome". Persons brought white flowers and held them throughout service. Peace banners were displayed in middle aisle, from ceiling, and on sides of walls.

Approximately 6:50 p.m., (being downstairs with Mrs. Nelson) running was heard overhead, and dashing upstairs, saw Gregory after he had started chaining himself to rest of persons. Most persons had rushed from pews to join directly, in front, of supporters seated. (Saw later three of gentlemen had been fedral marshals). Gregory spoke, saying he had been chasing around the block for an hour and a half(driving) and this had been the first time he had had to fight to get into a church, apologizing because he was late and held things up for supporters and marshals, who had to do their job they were ordered and here to do. He hoped they might decide differently and reconsider after they had listened to him and the others. He stated he had chosen this action saying it was useless to go before Judge Stephens and the court won't recognize why he did what he did, in refusing to register. Said it wouldn't listen to the facts presented in the Nuremberg trials, when Nazis were executed for taking part in a war, they knew was wrong. He had, he said, seen other resistor's trials and thought it was useless to try to change the judge's mind, so came here, to the church, as he thought the church would listen. Said chains were a symbol of brotherhood among those who felt as he did about going to kill and take a human life, and not to be broken by man.

He asked those who were willing to turn in their draft cards, to now, join him, in burning them. Bill Speer(Spear) reached Gregory his card, whereupon Gregory took his card(supposed to have been registration card) and Bill's and lit them. Someone passed them a pan and after placing them over pan, put the ashes into it. He reached the pan to the federal marshal's, who he felt should desire to take them, for evidence. Then he asked for others who would want to turn their cards in to present them, also. About 4 did so(including Neil Brown). Asked marshals to hold a flower in their hand, if they would and perhaps, give up their job and join them now, in support. David Harris, then, spoke, along same issues of war being immoral, and the government is teaching them to become murderers, by giving them a gun, saying you are to kill with this weapon, whether one likes it or not. Said church has tried Gregory and found him to be not guilty, and courts should abide by church's vote, with Gregory not having to suffer punishment in court trial and imprisonment. This was reason, he added, for traveling throughout the U.S. counseling men of draft age, from making same mistakes of entering service to be killed, in brutal form, of death.

At approx. 7:30-7:45 p.m. cutting David's speech off, marshal's (3) produced several foot pair,of cutting metal shears, (many rushed in and sat around this area, then) and proceeded to cut [illegible]s. They had some difficulty, in this action, and had to [illegible]r way to Gregory, stepping on and over persons arms, etc.

When this began taking place, mother started to cry and Rev. Weitzel pulled back on chain, still attached to Gregory's left arm. Someone shouted the marshals were breaking Gregory's arm, and Rev. Weitzel said(to effect) this is a sanction and we won't have this happen(take place) in a church, would you, in fact demmand, that you gentlemen leave this house of worship, at once, do you understand what I'm saying. Gregory tried pulling back, but noticing his mother, in tears, went along, saying it's okay, I'm going, stop. One of marshal's said something, in answer to one of supporter arguements as to why they had to take him, that he was breaking a federal law. As they led Gregory away, a woman shouted, "You dirty b- - - - - - -s". Others cursed, smoked, cried, and harrassed the marshals,following them out of the church. As they put him in the car, persons shouted name-calling to three police cars which had been parked outside, saying, also,"block the pigs in." The cars were,finally, able to drive away, with a policeman untying the block. Several resistors voiced they would go down, the next day, to Gregory's hearing, and try to pack the courtroom.

Chairman- Irving Sarnoff

Reason for Calling this Special Meeting- Delegates, of the P.A.C., had received letters to take into consideration motion for an action to be taken on Oct. 26, by Mike McCabe from past meeting, of P.A.C., held Wed., Sept. 18, '68, at First Unitarian Church. Persons attending that meeting were told by Irving that a special meeting would be held next week, for this purpose, and delegates would be let known date for such. As a result, this meeting, now, was called.

Agenda-

Meeting was opened with Mike McCabe stating a motion, as at last P.A.C. meeting, for an action to be set for Oct. 26, This motion was in support of the Student Mobilization of Chicago's request for such, and Mike's desire was to have it sponsored and headed by P.A.C.

Motion was made and reasons for such explained by Mike. Bob Klonsky made motion against such an action, for the Oct. 26 date, and furthermore, against any such action taking place at all, and explained that financially that P.A.C., he felt, could handle it, with the Hemispheric Conference coming up, the Vets for Peace March coming up on Nov. 10 which he felt P.A.C. will help to support, and two past demonstrations headed by P.A.C. left them no money to be able to favor this proposed motion. Time, too, could not allow it, with all the mailings to be put out for these other, stated tasks.

The Emma Lazarus Women's Club delegate stated her group and another one had voiced their approval of such an action and to present this at this meeting. S.D.S. delegate was against any action, as ties have been broken between them and the Student Mobilization, of Chicago, because of differences of opinion on Political differences between them. Several others voiced their opinions, with discussions lasting a half-hour. Irving spoke on why the P.A.C. shouldn't support this date action, saying the 26th had no meaning or value, being just another day to protest the war. Unless a presidential candidate were coming for that date, and maybe one just might, by accident unknowingly, and each time one of them, Humphrey, Wallace or Nixon does come, he said a [illegible]ration would be set by P.A.C. Any one of the three or all will come again, between now and election day, and that would be the time to have actions. When Humphrey had come this past Tuesday, Sept. 24, it was not let be known until it was too late to call an action. On June 23rd, he added, they were able to find out when and where Humphrey was coming, two weeks ahead of time, by calling the Democratic headquarters,on a sneaking basis, and get all the information so an action could be set up, in time. He understands, he added, the gentleman who had given all the information to the P.A.C. callers, had been fired the next day or soon after that, and anyway, the Democratic Headquarters would have let him go, anyway, since they let many of the workers go, being forced out of business, with the campaign at a stand still.

A vote was then taken, on motion, to have the action for Oct. 26, with a 9-8 vote, in favor of an action. When discussion, then, arose as to what type of action, no agreement could be reached. Irving suggested and Mike agreed to take it back to the group he represented and start to form plans and ideas and organize, without P.A.C. heading such action, then let P.A.C. know what they have planned and they (executive board) could review this. Executive board meets, agains, Wed. evening at 8 p.m. Oct. 2, then regular meeting meeting on Wed., Oct. 9, 8 p.m. 15 delegates from 15 different organizations were represented, here, tonight, with 60(Irving said 70) letters having had been mailed, so it appeared many either didn't wish to participate or were too busy with their own issues on the war, Klonsky stated.

The action for this Saturday, Sept. 28, march on Sunset Strip was announced by two youths. One youth was from P & F Party, the other from The Diggers. Persons are to meet, at 8 p.m., at Old Pandora's House, Crescent Heights & Sunset, then proceed to Sunset Strip. Medics have been reached and police notified. Sheriff to be contacted tommorrow and let known. Expected would be about 5000, not 15,000 as rumored. In case bottle throwing or window breaking occurs, which probably will happen, someone would direct the people to a point of safety where they won't be touched by the police. Monitors are needed and sound system expected. Escape routes will be set and ministers, in their parish apparel will stand in front of the police if a confrontation or riot starts and protect the demonstrators. This way police won't hit the religious figures, in sympathy, and hold the police from getting to the demonstrators. It was a tatic which had proved effective 2 years ago(or year ago) when the Diggers and others proposed a riot to take place on Sunset Strip. Windows were broken and no riot developed as they had planned, so they felt the ministers had helped stop the police from clubbing, thus riot didn't occur. Several militant groups, who want a riot for this march, have called the P & F party and stated this. Not being able to stop them from joining in, the monitors will try to separate those who wish to be in the militant groups and those who don't want violence. Will be held on sidewalks, so far, but with all the publicity it has received in the colleges, peace groups, underground newspapers, may go to the streets(forced in) Presbyterian Church(West Hollywood) has offered to help the groups with use of their church. 7350 Hollywood Blvd.(or Sunset) mentioned. Meeting set for tatic planning at 8371 Sunset

Blvd., at Pleasure Dome, at 8 p.m. Another meeting would take place sometime Sat. morning or afternoon, the Sat. evening around 6 to 7 p.m. for last minute changes. Persons were advised to come expecting to stand their grounds, should a riot take place, and if they want to be militant, not leave when they are confronted by police and sheriffs. Points for this march(issues) are Free Huey, Stop oppression against loitering and Free the Strip. Call P.A.C. or P&F party for info. Leaflet passed on march by P&F Party delegate.

Prof. Kalish supports action for Oct. 26th, but was unable to come as he had a dinner engagement, at his home, with 7 other gentlemen. He is head of the mass action of P.A.C. where he works in the colleges reaching students.

Letter read by Irving from Dellinger, Student Mobilization head in Chicago, calling for P.A.C. support in following issues to be protested:

Visit armories and defense sights,
Demonstrations up to and including election day.
Protesting of police brutality everywhere, especially Chicago.
Demonstrate against presidential candidates.
Support servicemen, in uniform, who wish to dissent and receive discharge and return to civilian life, again.
Blocking of election day voting locations.

Vote passed on supporting these issues, and supporting the National Mobilization Committee of Chicago.

Mike and others stayed later at meeting, with signatures obtained by him as to who would help plan and work on the Oct. 26 action. Meeting scheduled for this, to take place at P.A.C. offices.

Announcements included, a scheduled rally to take place at Wrigley Field, Sun., Sept. 29, at 3 p.m. (on lynching protest that took place in south).

Oct. 12 march in San Francisco by servicemen who are dissenting and want to return to be civilians. Military police won't like it and arrests will occur but they want to go ahead and march. Theme will be, Support your servicemen not the ones who put them there.

Nov. 2 and 3 is being set for Servicemen's services in some of the churches who support the peace movement. Asked persons to try to reach other churches to do the same, these two days.

First meeting for Montreal Conference held Monday(check accuracy) and 2nd to be held Oct. 1(check accuracy) or Oct. 2(check accuracy). Other groups and individuals should try to make plans to go, Klonsky stated.

Collection taken up for expense for Oct. 26 demo. $45 and change collected. Will be used for stamps, printing of leaflet, etc.

P.A.C.s mailing going out 1st week of Nov. and will call for financial donations to be used for support of Resistance and Brown Berets, possibly several others.

Leaflets passed were Free Huey, Free the Strip by P&F Party., Militant Labor Forum for Sept. 27, 8:30 p.m. Paul Boutelle will speak, also Joyce Miller(McCarthy Petition Drive supporter) and Milton Zaslow. at 1702 E. 4th St., topic of speeches will be What choice for the left? CHANNELING

(This is an unedited, official Selective Service System memorandum.)

NOTE

"Channeling" was one of 10 documents in an "Orientation Kit" put out July, 1965, by the Selective Service System. It was withdrawn, perhaps because of the outrage it engendered. However, the SSS still presents material from the 1965 pamphlet in an abbreviated and less candid form. Its policy is unchanged. See The Selective Service: Its Concept, History and Operation, September, 1967. (U. S. Govt. Printing Office: 1967-0-267-285)

One of the major products of the Selective Service classification process is the channeling of manpower into many endeavors,and occupations;activities that are in the national interest.This function is a counterpart and amplification of the System's responsibility to deliver manpower to the armed forces in such a manner as to reduce to a minimum any adverse effect upon the national health,safety, interest,and progress.By identifying and applying this process intelligently,the System is able not only to minimize any adverse effect,but to exert an effect beneficial to the national health,safety and interest.

The line dividing the primary function of armed forces manpower procurement from the process of channeling manpower into civilian support is often finely drawn.The process of channeling by not taking men from certain activities who are otherwise liable for service,or by giving deferment to qualified men in certain occupations,is actual procurement by inducement of manpower for civilian activities which are manifestly in the national interest.

While the best known purpose of Selective Service is to procure manpower for the armed forces,a variety of related processes takes place outside delivery of manpower to the active armed forces.Many of these may be put under the heading of "channeling manpower."Many young men would not have pursued a higher education if there had not been a program of student deferment.Many young scientists,engineers,tool and die makers, and other possessors of scarce skills would not remain in their jobs in the defense effort if it were not for a program of occupational deferment.Even though the salary of a teacher has historically been meager,many young men remain in that job seeking the reward of deferment.The process of channeling manpower by deferment is entitled to much credit for the large amount of graduate students in technical fields and for the fact that there is not a greater shortage of teachers,engineers,and other scientists working in activities which are essential to the national interest.

More than ten years ago, it became evident that something additional had to be done to permit and encourage development of young scientists and trained people in all fields.A million and a half registrants are now deferred as students.One reason the Nation is not in shorter supply of engineers today is that they were among the students deferred by Selective Service in previous years.Similarly,Selective Service student deferments reduced what otherwise would have developed into more serious shortages in teaching,medicine,dentistry,and every field requiring advanced study.The System has also induced needed people to remain in these professions and in industry engaged in defense activities or in support of national health,safety,or interest.

The opportunity to enhance the national well-being by inducing more registrants to participate in fields which relate directly to the national interest came about as a consequence,soon after the close of the Korean episode,of the knowledge within the System that there was enough registrant personnel to allow stringent deferment practices employed during war time to be relaxed or tightened as the situation might require.Circumstances had become favorable to induce registrants,by the attraction of deferment,to matriculate in schools and pursue subjects in which there was beginning to be a national shortage of personnel. These were particularly in the engineering,scientific,and teaching professions.

This was coupled with a growing public recognition that the complexities of future wars would diminish furthur the distinction between what constitutes military service in uniform and a comparable contribution to the national interest out of uniform.Wars have always been conducted in various ways,but appreciation of this fact and its relationship to preparation for war has never been so sharp in the public mind as it is now becoming.The meaning of the word"service",with its former restricted application to the armed forces,is certain to become widened much more in the future.This brings with it the ever increasing problem of how to control effectively the service of individuals who are not in the armed forces.

In the Selective Service System,the term"deferment" has been used millions of times to describe the method and means used to attract to the kind of service considered to be the most important,the individuals who were not compelled to do it.The club of induction has been used to drive out of areas considered to be less important to the areas of greater importance in which deferments were given,the individuals who did not or could not participate in activities which were considered essential to the Nation.The Selective Service System anticipates evolution in this area.It is promoting the process by the granting of deferments in liberal numbers where the national need clearly would benefit

Soon after Sputnik I was launched it became popular to reappraise critically our educational,scientific,and technicological inventory.Many deplored our shortage of scientific and technical personnel,inadequacies of our schools,and shortage of teachers. Since any analysis having any connection with manpower and its relation to the Nation's survival vitally involves the Selective Service System,it is well to point out that for quite some time the System had been following a policy of deferring instructors who were engaged in the teaching of mathematics and physical and biological sciences.It is appropriate also to recall the System's previously invoked practice of deferring students to prepare themselves for work in some essential activity and the established program of deferring engineers,scientists,and other critically skilled persons who were working in essential fields

The Congress,in enacting the Universal Military Training and Service legislation declared that adequate provisions for national security required maximum effort in the fields of scientific research and development,and the fullest possible utilization of the Nation's technicological,scientific,and other critical manpower resources. To give effect to this philosophy,the classifying boards of the Selective Service System defer registrants determined by them to be necessary in the national health,safety, or interest.This is accomplished on the basis of evidence of record in each individual case.No group deferments are permitted.Deferments are granted,however,in a realistic atmosphere so that the fullest effect of channeling will be felt,rather than be terminated by military service at too early a time.

Registrants and their employers are encouraged and required to make available to the classifying authorities detailed evidence as to the occupations and activities in which the registrants are engaged.It is not necessary for any registrant to specifically request deferment,but his selective service file must contain sufficient current evidence on which can be based a proper determination as to whether he should remain where he is or be made available for service. Since occupational deferments are granted for no more than a year at a time,a process of periodically receiving current information and repeated review assures that every deferred registrant continues to contribute to the overall national good. This reminds him of the basis of his deferment.The skills as well as the activities are periodically reevaluated.A critical skill that is not employed in an essential activity does not qualify for deferment.

Patriotism is defined as"devotion to the welfare of one's country." It has been interpreted to mean many different things.Men have always been exhorted to do their duty.But what that duty is depends upon a variety of variables,most important being the nature of the threat to the national welfare and the capacity and opportunity of the individual,Take,for example,the boy who saved the Netherlands by plugging the dike with his finger.

At the time of the American Revolution the patriot was the so called"embattled farmer" who joined General Washington to fight the British.The concept that patriotism is best exemplified by service in uniform has always been under some degree of challenge,but never to the extent that it is today.In today's complicated warfare when the man in uniform may be suffering far less than the civilians at home,patriotism must be interpreted far more broadly than ever before.

This is not a new thought,but it has had new emphasis since the development of nuclear and rocket warfare.Educators,scientists,engineers,and their professional organizations,during the last ten years particularly,have been convincing the American public that for the mentally qualified man there is a special order of patriotism other than service in uniform -- that for the man having the capacity,dedicated service as a civilian in such fields,as engineering,the sciences,and teaching constitute the ultimate in their expression of patriotism.A large segment of the American public has been convinced that this is true.

It is in this atmosphere that the young man registers at age 18 and pressure begins to force his choice.He does not have the inhibitions that a philosophy of universal service in uniform would engender.The door is open for him as a student to qualify if capable in a skill needed by his nation.He has many choices and he is prodded to make a decision.

The psychological effect of this circumstantial climate depends upon the individual,his sense of good citizenship,his love of country and its way of life.He can obtain a sense of well being and satisfaction that he is doing as a civilian what will help his country most.This process encourages him to put forth his best effort and removes to some degree the stigma that has been attached to being out of uniform.

In the less patriotic and more selfish individual it engenders a sense of fear,uncertainty,and dissatisfaction which motivates him, nevertheless,in the same direction.He complains of the uncertainty which he must endure;he would like to be able to do as he pleases; he would appreciate a certain future with no prospect of military service or civilian contribution,but he complies with the needs of the national health,safety,or interest -- or he is denied deferment.

Throughout his career as a student,the pressure -- the threat of loss of deferment -- continues.It continues with equal intensity after graduation.His local board requires periodic reports to find out what he is up to.He is impelled to pursue his skill rather than embark upon some less important enterprise and is encouraged to apply his skill in an essential activity in the national interest.The loss of deferred status is the consequence for the individual who has acquired the skill and either does not use it,or uses it in a nonessential activity.

The psychology of granting wide choice under under pressure to take action is the American or indirect way of achieving what is done by direction in foreign countries where choice is not allowed. Here, choice is limited but not denied,and it is fundamental that an individual generally applies himself better to something he has decided to do rather than something he has been told to do.

The effects of channeling are manifested among student physicians they are deferred to complete their education through school and internship.This permits them to serve in the armed forces in their skills rather than in an unskilled as enlisted men.

The device of pressurized guidance,or channeling,is employed on Standby Reservists of which more than 2 1/2 million have been referred by all services for availability determinations. The appeal to the Reservists who knows he is subject to recall to active duty unless he is determined to be unavailable is virtually identical to that extended to other registrants.

The psychological impact of being rejected for service in uniform is severe.The earlier this occurs in a young man's life, the sooner the beneficial effects of pressured motivation by the Selective Service System are lost.He is labeled unwanted . His patriotism is not desired.Once the label of"rejectee" is upon him all efforts at guidance by persuasion are futile.If he attempts to enlist at 17 or 18 and is rejected,then he receives virtually none of the impulsion the System is capable of giving him,If he makes no effort to enlist and as a result is not rejected until delivered for examination by the Selective Service System at about age 23,he has felt some of the pressure but thereafter is a free agent.

This contributed to establishment of a new classification of I-Y(registrant qualified for military service only in time of war or national emergency).That classification reminds the registrant of his ultimate qualification to serve and preserves some of the benefit of what we call channeling.Without it or any other similar method of categorizing men in degrees of acceptability,men rejected for military service would be left with the understanding that they are unfit to defend their country,even in war time.

An unprejudiced choice between alternative routes in civilian skills can be offered only by an agency which is not a user of manpower and is,therefore,not a competitor.In the absence of such an agency,bright young men would be importuned with bounties and pirated like potential college football players until eventually a system of arbitration would have to be established.

From the individual's viewpoint,he is standing in a room which has been made uncomfortably warm.Several doors are open,but they all lead to various forms of recognized,patriotic service to the Nation.Some accept the alternatives gladly -- some with reluctance.The consequence is approximately the same.

The socalled Doctor Draft was set up during the Korean episode to insure sufficient physicians,dentists,and veterinarians in the armed forces as officers.The objective of that law was to exert sufficient pressure to furnish an incentive for application for commission.However,the indirect effect was to induce many physicians,dentists,and veterinarians to specialize in areas of medical personnel shortage and to seek outlets for their skills in areas of greatest demand and national need rather than of greatest financial return.

Selective Service processes do not compel people by edict as in foreign systems to enter pursuits having to do with essentiality and progress.They go because they know that by going they will be deferred.

The application of direct methods to effect the policy of every man doing his duty in support of national interest involves considerably more capacity than the current use of indirection as a method of allocation of personnel.The problem,however,of what is every man's duty when each individual case is approached is not simple.The question of whether he can do one duty better than another is a problem of considerable proportions and the complications of logistics in attempting to control parts of an operation without controlling all of it(in other words,to control allocation of personnel without controlling where people eat,where they live, and how they are to be transported)adds to the administrative difficulties of direct administration.The organization necessary to make the decisions,even poor decisions,would,of necessity,extract a large segment of population from productive work.If the members of the organization are conceived to be reasonably qualified to exercise judgment and control over skilled personnel,the impact of their withdrawal from war production work would be severe.The number of decisions would extend into billions.

A quarter billion classification actions were needed in World War II for the comparatively limited function of the Selective Service System at that time.Deciding what people should do,rather than letting them do something of national importance of their own choosing,introduces many problems that are at least partially avoided when indirect methods,the kind currently invoked by the Selective Service System,are used.

Delivery of manpower for induction,the process of providing a few thousand men with transportation to a reception center,is not much of an administrative or financial challenge.It is in dealing with the other millions of registrants that the system is heavily occupied,developing more effective human beings in the national interest.If there is to be any survival after disaster,it will take people,and not machines,to restore the Nation.

Bill LANDIS was chairman of the meeting and Marcia Silverstein read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Jerry DEMPSEY gave a report on the financial situation and told how much they had spent on the Chicago trip - approx. $120.

There was then discussion about demonstrating against a South American banana company - CHIQUITA. They are planning on getting together with THE RESISTANCE & SDS. Morris KIGHT said that at one time the government was going to do something about taking some land from some banana company and giving it to the poor people, and the CIA went in there and formed a group to overthrow their government, so now they have a new government, and this company still has control of these 4800 acres of land.

There was a long diatribe of what they should do - whether they go alone on their own - or what. Each one had about the same thing to say - that they should get in touch with these other groups and form a seven-day vigil where each organization would be responsible for one day of demonstrating against this company's main office. They will get in touch with these other groups and see what kind of action they can form against this company.

KIGHT proposed to send $10 to PAC in support of IRVING SARNOFF'S plane fare to the Hemispheric Conference in Montreal. This motion was not carried because of the feelings that Zacher and Marcia Silverstein have toward PAC- they dislike it with a passion. KIGHT Kept trying to push this through - saying that DONALD KALISH had loaned them his credit cards for their trip to Chicago, and he is vice chairman of PAC. Also, Sarnoff had gotten in touch with an individual in Costa Mesa who gave $50 to help finance the Chicago trip. These reasons were not good enough and the motion was turned down.

There will be a parade down Beverly Blvd. to First Street, and a rally at City Hall sponsored by VETERANS FOR PEACE. They have obtained a permit and they are going to emphasize the bit about only being permitted to have 150 veterans march in the parade. It was suggested by Bill BEASLEY that the peace movement emphasize how wrong it is that they are denying 1000 vets to march in that area - only allowing 150. They will attempt to walk along with the marchers on the sidewalk and then at the rally they hope to have a lot of people.

Morris KIGHT said he had been contacted by the FBI today, and he talked to them. He feels that they are going to attempt to arrest or prosecute several of the main people in the Mobilization Committee and perhaps permit ZACHER's charge of arrest to be dropped as a gesture. This would justify making the other prosecutions. He also said it is very likely that the HCUA would be looking into the Chicago affair and he would probably be called before them. He has already been before them and he will get up and say he would like to make a statement - they are always happy to listen to a statement because they feel they are going to use them - and with that he will make the statement that he is not now a Communist; has never been a Communist; that he is not now and has never been a fascist. He will say the Committee is the most fascist type there is. He will probably be hustled out and not bothered again. He said this is what he has done in the past and this is what has always happened. Anyway, the Committee will attempt to have another McCarthy-type smear and will try to whitewash the police brutality, Mayor Lindsey, Mr.Humphrey, and President Johnson - get them off the hook. He said Mayor Lindsey was on the phone all the time with Mr. Johnson, asking whether he should use gas or call out the National Guards, and all these decisions Mr. Johnson agreed upon. President Johnson pulls all the strings.

On September 28th there will be a DAC party someplace. There is also going to be a demonstration by PAC on Sunset Blvd - the meeting place for this is Pandora's Box, 8 p.m. on 9/28/68. This is in conjunction w/ the kids being kicked off the Sunset Blvd.

The maximum number of demonstrators was reached at 7:45 a.m., at that time 15 participants occupied the sidwalk area in front of the entrance to the induction center. Demonstrators didnot form a formal picket line, but milled about distributing leaflets to inductees and holding up placards with anti-draft and anti-war phrases, so passing vehicles could observe them. Most of the signs bore the phrase "The Resistance".

The following persons were identified as participants in the demonstration:

Michael Greene - attorney
Michael Greene - law student
Arlene Farwell
Paul Encimer
Lynn Shoemaker
Dick Solomon
Sherna Gluck
John Tremblatt
Shirley Nelson
Walt Skinner
Ruth Shapin
David Murphy
Helen Travis
Lee Solomon
Dennis Durby
Louis Nidorf
Dave Ostroff

Peter Marx was the moderator of the discussion. William Smith was the principal speaker during most of the discussion. Sherna Gluck was the speaker for the Resistance.

Farwell identified two of those present as Kurt Baruch (ph.) and Amos Roos, an attorney.

Tremblatt said he is establishing a draft counseling service in the Cal-State LA, United Mexican- American Community Center, in EAst Los Angeles (Believed to be on Whittier Blvd.). After he organizes the service, it will be managed by Chris Cebada and other chicanos.

A man who said he was from American Friends Service Committee (AFSC), said that AFSC is holding a national conference next week. Among other things, they will consider whether they can morally continue to work within a law which they believe is wrong.

The counseling of AWOLS and deserters was discussed. Smith advised that counselors send such people to a lawyer to avoid the harboring penalty. If an AWOL has a medical condition which might earn him a discharge, the person should be sent to a civilian physician or psychiatrist immediately. He should also obtain copies of his Army medical record. Then he must return to his base and request a discharge. The man should also be given the name of an attorney near his base, so that he will have legal assistance.

Smith said that attorney John Thorne, in San Jose, is forming a seperate panel of attorneys in the Fort Ord area to assist soldiers. a similar group is also forming under the direction of attorney Hoag (ph.), in the Seattle-Tacoma area.

Smith said he will give legal assistance, in his office, without charge, to all Chicano and Black men with selective service problems.

Dick Solomon said he gives draft counseling on Thursday evenings, at the Resistance office.

Smith mentioned that Bill Crane (ph.), of radio station WBAI, New York City, is gathering case histories of men who were wrongfully inducted into the military. He also said a group of lawyers in Los Angeles is gathering information for a suit to change the Los Angeles induction center.

it was mentioned that if a man wants to have his physical examination changed to the Oakland induction center, and if he is unable to get an address in that area, he can go to the Resistance office in San Francisco, and someone there will be able to get him an address to give his local board.

It was announced that Arlene Farwell, the medical coordinator for draft counselors, makes appointments in the area from Santa Barbara to San Diego, and as far east as Riverside.

On Saturday, September 7, 1968, for the afternoon and evening, the Southern California District Communist Party had a table with literature, buttons and etc., which were at the State Convention of the California Young Democrats which was held at the Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica. During the afternoon DEACON ALEXANDER manned the table and then for the afternoon DEACON ALEXANDER manned the table and then for the evening WALTER CROWE and BILL DIVALE manned the table. The Young Democrats Convention, there was a couple hundred people there, and the Party table actually just had some reprints of speeches given on KPFK by DOROTHY HEALEY, a couple of leaflets on racism, and on Peace and Freedom Party, and buttons urging to vote communistic for CHARLENE MITCHELL and MIKE ZAGARELL.. On the whole, there was really very little interest showed by the part of the Young Democrats toward the Party table other than there was interest, though, over the buttons which were rather exotic and about $5.00 worth of them were sold. But other than that there was just a little shock, and you know, that was really all that was expressed.

There was another table by the Resistance, put out by The Resistance, ~~which .....~~ even to sell literature and give away literature, etc. So together this composed about all the radical activity there. The Young Democrats is just really what it is, an organization of the Democratic Party, and there was a very big noticeable gap between these two radical organizations and the people there.

National Draft Card Turn In Day no. #- 100-67856-56

The Resistance, a militant antidraft group, 5 Beekman Street, New York City, is sponsoring a national draft card turn-in on 11/14/68.

All offices immediately alert sources and informants to this proposed action which will undoubtedly be accompanied by antiwar demonstrations. Conduct investigation necessary to identify individuals and groups planning to participate in this activity. All information developed is to be immediately reported to the Bureau by teletype followed by a comprehensive letterhead memorandum, original and ten copies, for dissemination to interested agencies. Teletypes must contain sufficient data to enable the Bureau to characterize organizations and individuals without resorting to file reviews. Bear in mind that it is essential that individuals with subversive or militant backgrounds and subversive organizations participating in this activity be identified.

United States Attorneys, the military intelligence agencies, Secret Service, and local authorities are to be alerted to any demonstrations scheduled in their areas. Particular emphasis should be placed on prompt dissemination of pertinent information to local Secret Service offices in view of the possibility of travel of the President and the Vice President or members of their families in localities where demonstrations will take place. Close liaison is to be maintained with the foregoing agencies at all times and particularly, where demonstrations are planned on or near military or other Government reservations. You are reminded that the FBI will take no part in policing the demonstrators or in riot control. Should violations of Crime on Government Reservations, Destruction of Government Property, or other Federal statutes over which we have jurisdiction take place, immediate investigation should be initiated and the facts discussed at once with the United States Attorney for prosecutive opinion. In those instances, surep under the appropriate criminal classification.

Obtain copies of any printed material distributed during the demonstrations which contain language appearing to obstruct or interfere with recruiting or obtaining enlistees by the military services or intended to cause insubordination by members of the military forces and forward to the Bureau as enclosures to your letterhead memorandum reporting the demonstrations. Where possible, obtain the name and identifying data concerning individuals distributing such literature and the name of the organization issuing it.

You should keep in mind the possibility of violations of the Selective Service statute. Hindering administration of the statute and/or Selective Service regulations could be a violation. The burning or mutilating of draft cards could well be one of the activities connected with such demonstrations. In addition, counseling of individuals to refuse induction or other noncompliance with the statute may take place. It should be kept in mind the Department has indicated favorable consideration for prosecution if it can be shown an individual heeded such advice and did not comply with Selective Service statute or regulations. As in the past, no arrests for above should be made on the scene, but wherever possible, Agents should be on hand to discreetly observe such actions and collect all possible evidence for subsequent presentment to the United States Attorney and Department. In connection with investigation of possible violations, consideration should be given to utilizing sources, interviews of witnesses such as favorable representatives of news media, including obtaining copies of their photographic and sound coverage.

Cuter

In the event a possible Selective Service violation is developed, a separate case should be opened on each individual involved and reports submitted promptly.

As set out above, information developed is to be promptly furnished the Bureau by teletype. All offices are to advise by 11/11/68 as to whether any activity is scheduled in the territory covered by the respective office.

THE RESISTANCE
SELECTIVE SERVICE ACT, 1948
SEDITION

On November 5, 1968, The Resistance sponsored a demonstration in opposition for an order for induction into the Armed Forces of Norman Edward Schlumpf, also known as Reverend Otto Schlumpf, a Franciscan Priest and graduate student at the University of California, Santa Barbara, Selective Service Number 4-22-42-976, and Stanley Albert Kohls, Selective Service Number 4-83-42-839, an elementary school teacher, Los Angeles, California.

~~Source advised~~ the demonstration commenced at approximately 7:15 AM, November 5, 1968, on the front steps of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 12th and Los Angeles Streets, Los Angeles, California, where Reverend Otto Schlumpf read a prepared statement concerning his intention to refuse induction. (~~See attached~~). This was followed by the reading of two prepared statements by an unidentified Franciscan Priest, both of which were in support of Schlumpf's refusal to submit to induction, one signed by the faculty and students of the Franciscan School of Theology located at 1712 Euclid Avenue, Berkeley, California, the second signed by the Minister Provincial, Franciscan Province of Santa Barbara, 1500 34th Avenue, Oakland, California (~~See attached~~).

X Source advised that the group marched from St. Joseph's Church to the Induction Station, 1033 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California.

Lieutenant E. L. Earhart, United States Special Police, Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station, advised that after Schlumpf and Kohls entered the Induction Station, a sealed envelope addressed to General Hershey was thrown into the Induction Station. ~~Source~~ LA T-3 advised that five unidentified Franciscan Priests had allegedly turned in their Selective Service cards in support of Schlumpf.

Elnora Willis, Physical Examination Receptionist, Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station, advised that Schlumpf, Kohls, and William M. Ames, Selective Service Number 21-126-44-331, were uncooperative for processing and were escorted from the induction station without being processed.

~~Source~~ LA T-3 advised that Ames was not part of the Resistance group supporting Schlumpf and Kohls, but was talked into non-cooperation by unknown members of The Resistance when he arrived at the Induction Station. During the short time Schlumpf, Kohls, and Ames were in the Induction Station, the demonstrators outside engaged in a songfest. During this period, Dennis Durby, one of the demonstrators, was observed by Special Agents of the FBI burning a blue piece of paper. ~~This was~~ identified ~~by source~~ LA T3 as a voting ballot.

This ~~Source~~ LA T-3 advised that Martin Goldsmith, one of the demonstrators, approximately 45 years of age, burned his draft card stating he had carried same for 27 years and no longer wanted to carry it.

The demonstration which was attended by a maximum of 100 to 150 persons, terminated at approximately 9:30 AM after Schlumpf, Kohls, and Ames exited from the Induction Station and held interviews with the press media that was present. The demonstrators returned to the area of St. Joseph's Church where refreshments were then served.

The demonstration was orderly without violence and no arrests were made.

> "The Resistance" is self-described in its literature as "A group of young men determined to act. Anyone and everyone can join. Resistance is active and offensive, not passive and defensive. We will provoke continued confrontations with this war government. They're in an insoluble > dilemma; they can prosecute and imprison us which will bring new waves of protest and dissent of unsurpassed intensity or they can set us free, which will generate impetus for the expansion of the movement. Either way, we will gain growth and support and new members."

Dennis Durby is publicly identified as a member of The Resistance and active participant in local anti-war demonstrations. Durby previously turned in his Selective Service card on December 4, 1967 at the First Unitarian Church, 2936 West Eighth Street, Los Angeles, California. United States Attorney's Office, Los Angeles, has declined prosecution of Durby.

Norman Edward Schlumpf turned in his Selective Service card during demonstration at the Los Angeles, California Federal Building on January 29, 1968.

Stanley Albert Kohls turned in his Selective Service Classification card during an anti-draft demonstration at the Los Angeles Federal Building on October 16, 1967. The following day, North Hollywood, California Draft Board received a letter from Kohls stating that he was totally disaffiliating himself from the Selective Service System. On October 30, 1967, Kohls requested a duplicate Registration and Classification card which was sent to him. On April 4, 1968, United States Attorney's Office, Los Angeles, declined prosecution of Kohls for lack of evidence on violation of existing Federal laws.

Kohls has participated in many activities of Peace Action Council (PAC)(See appendix) and Students for a Democratic Society (SDS)(See appendix).

Martin Goldsmith is believed to be identical with Martin Milton Goldsmith, a self-described anarchist who is a self-employed Television screen writer, and who has been extremely active in PAC and has participated in numerous anti-Vietnam war demonstrations.

APPENDIX

PEACE ACTION COUNCIL

The "People's World", a weekly west coast communist newspaper, in its issue of November 5, 1966, in an article on Page 3, describes the Peace Action Council (PAC) as, "a coordinating agency for peace activists" which conducts emergency mobilizations and demonstrative actions against the war in Vietnam.

On July 22, 1966, a source reported that the PAC, which has also been known as the Greater Los Angeles Peace Action Council (GLAPAC), was formed during the early summer of 1966, for the express purpose of protesting the war in Vietnam during the National Governors' Conference held in Los Angeles, California from July 4 to July 8, 1966. Following the conclusion of that conference, the PAC members decided to continue as a coordinating group to sponsor similar protest demonstrations at later dates.

This source was recontacted on May 8, 1968, and reported that the PAC continues to operate under the same basic concept.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United States International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

"A TIME TO CHOOSE"

On November 5th, voting Americans will go to the polls to make a non-choice for president. For not the first time in our history, the people will have to pick a leader who appears to manifest the least political incompetency and moral insensitivity. Instead of being the strength and pride of our country, our election this year is again our shame and our failure.

I am one of the lucky ones. For me, there is a choice on November 5th. The government has invited me to join its armed forces on that day, and I am going to refuse the invitation. I am given the choice between life and death - I choose life. I am given the choice between freedom and bondage - I choose freedom. I am given the choice between concern and complacency - I choose concern. I am choosing to face a judge and jury rather than so-called enemy soldiers. I am choosing the possibility of imprisonment for the sake of liberty rather than the necessity of murder in the name of patriotism. I so choose because I respect Christ's demands more than governmental importunity. I so choose because I value the integrity of conscience more than the respect of society. I so choose because I believe in the possibility of the future more than the pragmatism of the present.

I have a choice on election day. So do you. Support me as I refuse induction in Los Angeles on November 5th, at 8:00 a.m.

Rev. Otto Schlumpf, O.F.M.

We, the undersigned faculty and students of the Franciscan School of Theology, support our brother, Otto Schlumpf, in his refusal to be inducted into military service. We feel that his act is an honorable expression of Christian conscience and the Franciscan way of life. We will continue to stand behind him and encourage him, sharing in every way possible his concern for justice and peace.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As the minister of the Franciscan friars of the West I hereby affirm my support of Father Otto Schlump in his refusal to be inducted into the military. This induction has been imposed as an evidently punitive action following an act of conscience by which Father Schlump dissociated himself from a draft system that he, together with many leaders of the major religious groups, considers immoral.

As a Christian and a follower of Francis of Assisi he is testifying to his beliefs. As a fellow Christian and Franciscan I cannot but urge that his actions be accepted in this spirit.

In the American tradition we might well ponder the words of Thomas Jefferson: "It behooves every man who values liberty of conscience for himself to resist invasion of it in the case of others, or their case may by chance of circumstances become his own".

Resistance Meeting

Date- October 7, 1968

Location- 2936 W. Eighth Street, L.A.
(First Unitarian Church)

Duration- Approx. 8:20- 10:20 p.m.

No. Persons Attending- Approx. 42

Agenda-

Meeting opened and discussion took place on a large draft card turn-in action for Nov. 14, which would be taking place at some of various colleges. David Harris will be in area from October 17 to Oct. 26 to speak at the various colleges and, perhaps, at least one high school appearance is trying to be worked out.

Lengthy discussion took place on the negogations that are to take place at San Francisco Prison with the C.C.C.O. organization.(Central Committee of Conscientious Objectors). It seemed that the prison didn't want to build more prisons and thought about starting prison camps(youth) instead. Sherna Gluck stated she was flying up to San Francisco on Tuesday to attend, and didn't know what position the Resistance would want her to take in the discussions. There were two different views on what might happen, if the prison went ahead with it's plans. One was that these camps might take on the form of being a concentration camp with the various prisoners being thrown all together. This could include the Black Panthers and murderers being put with those who would be serving on lesser charges, and if this being the case, would create more problems and fights among all of the prisoners, besides learning worse habits, thus exposing Resistance to the bad elements which isn't their ways. This feeling was how almost all had felt, except one's viewpoint. His had been, perhaps, prisoners may grow to like these camps and want to stay, if it weren't like an actual prison, thus not caring to leave and try to break out. Sherna thought if fights would occur in the camps that the prisoners would leave or break out and in doing so, could be shot as prisoners, in prison, are shot in trying to escape. There are many concentration camps now, just laying waiting to be used and this would be the one way of re-opening them, Sherna added. Hoped in the talks that these, too, would be done away with altogether, she stated. Final approach she could use, might be to listen and see what was going on, first, not taking any definite stand as to how Resistance might feel, then, when she saw that this was the prison's aim to open more camps, instead of enlarging the present prisons, (more expensive, also) then she might state Resistance feelings and objections to these camps.

Announcement that next Tues. there would be a dinner at the Resistance's Frances House, on Frances Street. People were asked to bring food, so there would be a dinner. At the Unitarian food has been running low with none being replaced. Plans e discussed, further, on the Nov. 14 action.(see 1st paragra

Statement mentioned that there has been some thought being given on extending ways of reaching persons, outside of the colleges, as feeling has been that it is limited to college students only in joining the Resistance. Many other youths, not attending college, have expressed desire to join.

Young man, not a member, stated phase Resistance might consider going into, instead of putting efforts toward United Fruit Co., etc. He was employed with a county office, collection enforcement out of District Attorney's office, which handles investigations on claims that deal with fraudulent collections by companies against their clients. Example given such as Loan Companies, Insurance Companies, etc. Stated three or four resisters might go down and learn the names of clients being sued and get in contact with them, thus reaching middle class people who might have sons, and money that would be saved by these unfair collections in costs, might even get financial support for the Resistance. Would take time, but if members could go down two or three times per week, and start with present cases, there would be no backlog in names to collect, then. He stated there were filings, not every day, but companies would bring in three or more, at one time, and clients could be taught, by Resistance attorneys or refered to legal depts.,where they could learn their rights in handling their case when it would come up, thus not being taken, in fear of wage attachments at their place of employment, by phony charges from these companies, thus be put out of business. Said for any one desiring to do this, to talk to him after the meeting. No comment was made, in response to this idea, and was kind of ignored in disinterest.

Rose Mathews mentioned clipping in Times Newspaper, Monday morning, Oct. 7, issue. It was written by Art Seidenbaum's column, and titled The Draft Resistance: One Who Refused to Run Away. It dealt with a story on Joseph Maizlish, a resister who went to prison rather than running to Canada, by refusing to go into the service. She, also, mentioned the Veteran's and G.I.'s March in San Francisco, Oct. 12, informing those who desired to go or furnish transportation to get in touch with Morris Kight. She,added, that since Richard Zachar wasn't here and had wanted to announce it, she would, herself. Explained that army said from the Pentagon that the soldiers, etc. faced arrest if they insisted on march. Some man announced that they, also, were told that they would be listed as AWOL. Rose said there would be risks for those going and might be another Chicago, but it was up to those going to know this, ahead of time.

Someone stated a communications group is thinking of setting a new system up in case of a disaster, where upon groups could be informed more quickly if a demonstration were planned in case of a fire, bomb, etc. for example hit the May Company, hotel, etc. It is too hard to reach all the groups, individually, so they would know what was to be planned if such occurs, in way of demonstration or support. The communications is in progress, now, so that this would be an additional,extended service. and would be expensive and difficult in getting this set up so it would be effective in reaching enough [illegible] one single step. No definite date set for such or comm- [illegible] was to say what a disaster might include.

Seen or heard: Starred names include those signing a petition for the Newton-Cleaver Defense Committee on Continuation of parole for Cleaver in opposition to Calif. State Court of Appeal's Decision to Revoke that Parole.

NATIONAL DRAFT CARD TURN-IN
NOVEMBER 14, 1968
INFORMATION CONCERNING
INTERNAL SECURITY

On November 14, 1968, at approximately 11:00 a.m., on the Glendale College Campus, Glendale, California, Special Agents of the FBI observed a demonstration attended by approximately 200 students at the Campus Free Speech Area.

The demonstration was jointly sponsored by the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) (See Appendix), and The Resistance.

Michael Eugene Farrell, a self-admitted SDS member at Glendale College, was the speaker. Farrell read from a prepared speech, a narration concerning an unnamed 19 year old American, who was drafted into the Army and subsequently killed in Vietnam.

At the conclusion of his speech, Farrell drew a parallel between 18 year old individuals who are not allowed to vote under the existing laws, but are under the existing laws allowed to fight another country's war. Farrell urged that individuals should make their feelings known by returning their draft cards to the United States Government. Farrell stated that he was returning his draft card to President - Elect Richard M. Nixon, along with a petition, which he did not read.

Approximately 15 "hippie" type individuals approached Farrell, allegedly signed his petition, and placed their draft cards in an envelope. The demonstration lasted approximately 20 minutes and was without incident.

NATIONAL DRAFT CARD TURN-IN
NOVEMBER 14, 1968
INFORMATION CONCERNING
INTERNAL SECURITY

Officer John Naveau, University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA) Police Department, advised that at approximately 12:15 p.m., on November 14, 1968, on the UCLA Campus, at Myerhoff Park, approximately 300 students gathered to observe a skit, sponsored by The Resistance.

Professional actors were brought in from the Guerrilla Theater Group, under the name "The Committee." The actors depicted a draft board committee who signed individuals up for the draft. They were shown to accept the blind, the lame, and women for the draft.

Speakers at the UCLA demonstration consisted of Victor Wolfenstein and Tom Robischon, described as Professors of Political Science at UCLA, and Todd Friend, recognized as The Resistance leader at UCLA, who spoke in opposition to the draft and to United States participation in the war in Vietnam.

Five (5) individuals involved in the skit indicated they were turning-in their draft cards. Naveau advised that real names were not used when making the announcements and the draft cards were blank pieces of paper.

LAT-8 ~~Source One~~ advised that an individual, (First Name Unknown) Rubinstein, did turn-in his draft card at UCLA on November 14, 1968.

Naveau advised that the demonstration lasted approximately one and one-half hours and was without incident.

At approximately 12:05 p.m., November 14, 1968, an unknown female photographer, who stated she was employed with the "Oxnard Press - Courier," Oxnard, California, advised Wanda Pollard, Clerk, Local Draft Board 81, Ventura, California, that a draft card burning demonstration was to take place at Local Draft Board 81, and she was present to photograph the demonstration.

NATIONAL DRAFT CARD TURN-IN
NOVEMBER 14, 1968
INFORMATION CONCERNING
INTERNAL SECURITY

Miss Lynn Minter, Clerk, Local Draft Board 81, advised that at approximately 1:30 p.m., two male individuals entered Local Draft Board 81. Shortly thereafter, they were joined by 30 to 35 individuals, both male and female, most of whom presented a "hippie" type appearance. As a group, they advised that they were opposed to the draft system and the Vietnam War, and would refuse induction into the military service.

There was no violence or burning of draft cards, and within approximately 45 minutes, the group departed Local Draft Board 81.

After their departure, the Selective Service Cards of the following individuals, along with three written statements concerning their refusal to carry Selective Service Cards, were found at Local Draft Board 81:

John J. Runnion, William Pennoyer Stoneham, Raymond John Rodriquez, and Neil Falk Pilgram, all of whom are registrants with Local Draft Board 81, Ventura, California.

The Selective Service Card of Robert Lee Taylor, a registrant of Local Draft Board 91, 1301 Westwood Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, was also recovered.

Stoneham, Rodriquez, and Taylor had signed one of the statements concerning their refusal to carry Selective Service Cards, with Pilgram and Runnion each signing a separate statement.

> "The Resistance" is self described in its literature as "---a group of young men determined to act. Anyone and everyone can join.---Resistance is active and offensive, not passive and defensive. We will provoke continued confrontations with this war government. They're in an insoluble dilemma; they can prosecute and imprison us which will bring new waves of protest and dissent of unsurpassed intensity, or they can set us free, which will generate impetus for the expansion of the movement. Either way, we will gain ground and support and new members."

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam, and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. GUS HALL, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United States International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes", the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of July 24, 1968, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

matter with negative results. Informant said he would make another trip back to the area soon.

Informant said he had no information regarding one DAVID ROBERT MINTON and this person was unknown to him.

10/14/68

Informant said he had gone back to the vicinity of 1841 Cahuenga the night of 10/11/68 but was unable to develope any information as to the identity of one "Little Joe". Informant said he talked with numerous local "hippy type" persons in the area with negative results. Informant was unable to develope any information indicating that false identification could be then or previously purchased in the area.

11/5/68

Informant advised that the "Resistance" office is moving out of their office at 1355 Westwood Boulevard. FOIA(b)(7) - (D) FOIA(b)(7) - (D) they were relocating for better office space, but informant said that in his opinion, they were moving because of pressure brought by their present landlord to "get them out". The new address of the "Resistance" is:

2819 W. Francis Avenue
Los Angeles, California 90005
Phone 382-4447

11/13/68

Informant advised that tomorrow, the "Resistance" will try to have what they call the 4th National Draft Card Turn-In. FOIA(b)(7) - (D) they wanted to collect any and all draft cards turned in, but are undecided as to what to do with any turned-in. She, speaking for the "Resistance", wanted to have a big cellebration at Noon at UCLA, probably Meyerhoff Park, and at 12:30 PM at USC, location unknown at this time. Other colleges hoped to be involved were Glendale College, Loyola, Valley Junion College and Occidental College. But, informant said they were "highly unorganized" at this late date, due to the fact of bringing too many colleges into it. Informant said it was so confused as to positive plans, that "it may not come off strong, if at all". Informant said he was reporting their final plans as such, but was really not optomistic that anything would come out of the "whole mess". He said it was probably their worst attempt to organize to date. They had put out the telephone number of 451-9026, where persons could call for information.

Informant said that the offices of the "Resistance" should be completely moved by tomorrow to their new address of 2819 W. Francis Avenue, Los Angeles. Informant determined that the "Resistance" moved because their landlord had raised the rent so high that they could not afford the monthly payment. Informant said that as far as he was concerned, this was equal to eviction.

Informant was contacted regarding the obtaining of all back copies of the Counterdraft, apparently distributed from the address of 6324 Primrose Avenue, Los Angeles. Informant said he would obtain 2 complete set of the issues.

11/20/68

Informant delivered to Agent 2 sets of the Counterdraft, beginning with Volume 1, No. 1, and ending with Volume 1, No. 8. He stated that No. 8 is not due to be on the market until later on this week. FOIA(b)(7) - (D) Informant paid cash for Counterdraft at 25¢ per copy.

Both sets put in Counterdraft file.

Sherna Gluck
Karen Dellenbach
Dennis Durby
Bill Garoway
Lynn Shoemaker
David Murphy
Mike Schwartz
Shirley Nelson
Rick Profumo
Missy Sheldon

Marty Harris conducted the meeting. They made plans for the next Resist Day, November 14. They plan to have "card turn-ins" at USC, UCLA, Glendale City College, and possibly at Occidental College. After the "turn-ins" the cards will be given to other people. Some of those mentioned as people to whom the cards may be given were: Baxter WArd, the manager of Baskin-Robbins, United Fruit Company, Chase Manhattan Bank, and the announcer of the TV show Newlywed Game.

David Harris is coming to Los Angeles next week. They are making plans for Harris to speak at various colleges. Someone named Bruce is trying to get Harris to speak at USC, and he is trying to get him a fee of $1,000. It was announced that anyone who wanted more information about Harris' schedule could call the Resistance office.

A minister called Louie L.N.U. was present at this meeting. He said he is a chaplain at the County Jail. He said he is in regular contact with Greg Nelson. Louie is active in Resistance Activities and is in attendance at most meetings. Louie was one of the people who planned the vigil for Marine Robinson, at Pendelton. He is also working with the coalition (The Resistance and the church groups) which was recently formed.

Garoway said that the aunt of Christian Hayden owns a house in Pasadena, which is now in probate. She is considering that she may allow the Resistance the use of the house rent-free.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

9-18

Dear Jon,

I received The Roach today--in which was printed my poem(s) "Poems for Susan." Thanks for including it--and your comments.

Author and "Susan" alive and well in love. Greetings from us both.

Yours for Peace and Freedom,

Frank Stewart

PS Kathy Luter has more of my work and was intending to publish it. With her permission, you may use whatever of it you'd like--and I'd specially welcome further comments from whomever reads it.

La lutte continue

Dear Mr. Olsen,

I want to write you about one of the many ways The Roach has helped me. It is true (I wouldn't shit you, Mr. Olsen).

Last night I was completely broke in the city and very hungry. I couldn't find any of my friends for food or money. At my lowest point of despair, I reached into my coat pocket in what I knew to be a vain search for some extra change. There was no loose change; but in the process of the search, I pulled from my coat pocket a folded copy of my temporal Bible - The Roach - and lo, from between its misprinted and besmudged pages fell a crisp, folded $1.00 bill. It had become lodged there in my more affluent days.

That money helped save me from starvation. I am fat and healthy today-thanks to The Roach. God and The Roach must surely love me.

I hope you will print this so others can read the wonderful and sometimes mysterious ways The Roach can enrich (or even save) their lives.

I must stop writing now. Keep printing that wonderful paper of yours.

Peace,

(Name withheld by request)
San Francisco, California

(The above letter was received written on own paper bag with 6¢ postage due.)

NO ROACH, NO VOTE!!

Since military personnel are harassed for reading leftist papers (i.e., The Roach, Ally, Vietnam GI) and aren't free to partake in demonstrations of political expression, I say they should not be allowed to vote. This includes the brass, most definitely.

To cast an intelligent vote, the citizen must be free to read and become involved. I used the word "citizen"--that's what is really in question. The GI is not a citizen. But if he votes he should have all the rights, freedom of speech, and other forms of expression that any citizen does.

I talked to Ann Fagan Ginger about this idea of no military vote. She is an attorney from San Francisco who spoke here in Hawaii, contributing much to our understanding of the draft and military law.

She said, "Soon the federal courts will have to define clearly where the military stands. I certainly think you should continue asking such questions and making the challenge."

Slaves did not vote. Am I saying military personnel are in slavery? Of course not. We did away with slavery with the 13th Amendment, didn't we?

PS. I am leaving for the mainland and hope to visit Dana (Dana Park, former UH student convicted of refusing induction) in Arizona soon. I will write you about the visit.

--James F. Skalicky

THE MAN AND THE BOAR

I am brought to this boar with the sloped forehead who honks me a question and who does not wait for an answer--it knows!--I carry a stigmata? It kicks me between the legs. I remain standing. It is amazing. I am not even afraid, now. It squeals into my ear violently. It is no ordinary pig.

It is what sustains revolution. It inspires justice. Before it courage is easy. It is necessary. I tell it quite calmly, proudly: Fuck you, pig! I stand a revolutionary! Fuck you twice, thrice. Ah, you take out your gun--you know me? You have seen my kind before?

Ha, so long as you exist you will see my kind pig. The Cause will go on, and on, and on. Stupid, listen. I am a good man, you are a pig. So long as men exist who tremble every time they see injustice you will squirm. You will take out your gun. You have the mechanical gun but you lack.

Stupid, you understand? You lack. I am not going to die in vain and neither will you. You will die for an excellent Cause.

The following statement was made by Dana Park at his sentencing before Judge Martin Pence in Federal Court Honolulu for " Failure to Appear for Induction"

Friday 12 July 1968...

In Conscience, I cannot and will not participate, cooperate, or support the Selective Service System of the United States. The System is insensitive, inhuman, unjust, and immoral. For the System that tells my brother he must kill or be killed is insensitive. And the System which offers my brother as a human sacrifice in an immoral war in Vietnam is inhuman. And the System which discriminates against my poor and uneducated brother is unjust. And the System which converts my brother into a killing Machine is immoral.

In Conscience, I can no longer remain a helpless and bewildered spectator to this holocost. In Conscience, I can no longer ignore the Slaughter and sacrifice of thousands who have died needlessly andin vain in Vietnam. In Conscience, I cannot any longererase from my mind, the orphaned, homeless, napalmed victims of Vietnam. In Conscience, I can no longer believe our leaders, who say they are honorable men seeking an honorable peace. In Conscience, I can no longer be proud of my country.

In Conscience, I must RESIST.

I weep not for myself, but for my brother who has died, for my brother who will die because of the System. I weep for Peace. I pray for Peace. I hope for Peace -
For Peace in Vietnam For Peace in America, For Peace in the World..
For Peace in MAN..

There was discussion about November 10th participation in the VETERANS FOR PEACE march. No specific plans were given. They will march on the sidewalks. They are also going to have a forum on November 10th - a panel discussion. Someone from the Black Community will be on the panel; also Richard Zacher.

There was discussion on the Hemispheric Conference in Montreal. Morris Kight said he had received a telegram asking him to be on the panel regarding germ warfare and also asking him to chair a group on the involvement of the GI's. He said he would like to do this. He said a plane has been chartered and it is very possible that representatives in large numbers will attend.

There was then discussion on the election. Someone by name of FORD said to vote "Yes" on 1-A and 9, and "No" on the bond issues. PAT went into the question of rapid transit; he said it is not good because it does not provide transportation where the people need it most, and several things are wrong with propositions on the ballot. Another individual said he had had discussion with George E. Brown, Jr. asking for help in getting Chicanos out to vote because he is afraid he is going to be defeated. Brown said if we get Nixon or Humphrey or Wallace, there are three recourses for us to take; (1) legal recourse, (2) civil disobedience, and (3) revolution. This is what PAT said.

They are going to do some demonstrating - leafleting and boycotting - in December. They will maybe get involved with the NO WAR TOYS group or a group like that and tie it in with how commercialized Xmas has become and how the true spirit of Xmas is not there any more - according to Marcia Silverstein - this is the way she felt.

It was mentioned by Rose Mathews that THE RESISTANCE is staging a demonstration on Nov. 5th at 7 a.m. at a Church at 12th and Los Angeles Streets, and they will march to the Induction Center. The demonstration involves some priests or someone from the ministry - these persons have turned in their draft cards and they were reclassified and now they have been drafted and they are going to refuse to be drafted.

There was some kid there who is going to walk out of class, along with some others. This kid was looking for a ride tonight and he said this would be his first encounter with the authorities at Fairfax High. He had five signs with him that he is going to carry if he can get four other kids to help him.

FOIA(b)(7) - (D) source learned that this new group of GI's and VETS will meet on Sunday, November 10th at 619 S. Bonnie Brae at 5 p.m.

Religious, Humanitarian or Political

Each resister has his own i[illegible]idual ideas, but we are united in opposing the Americ[illegible] policy in Vietnam. Do you feel that the Vietnam war is a breach of the ten commandments? Or perhaps, you see it as an imperialistic war, the result of a capitalist system. Or perhaps, you oppose it, but aren't quite sure why.

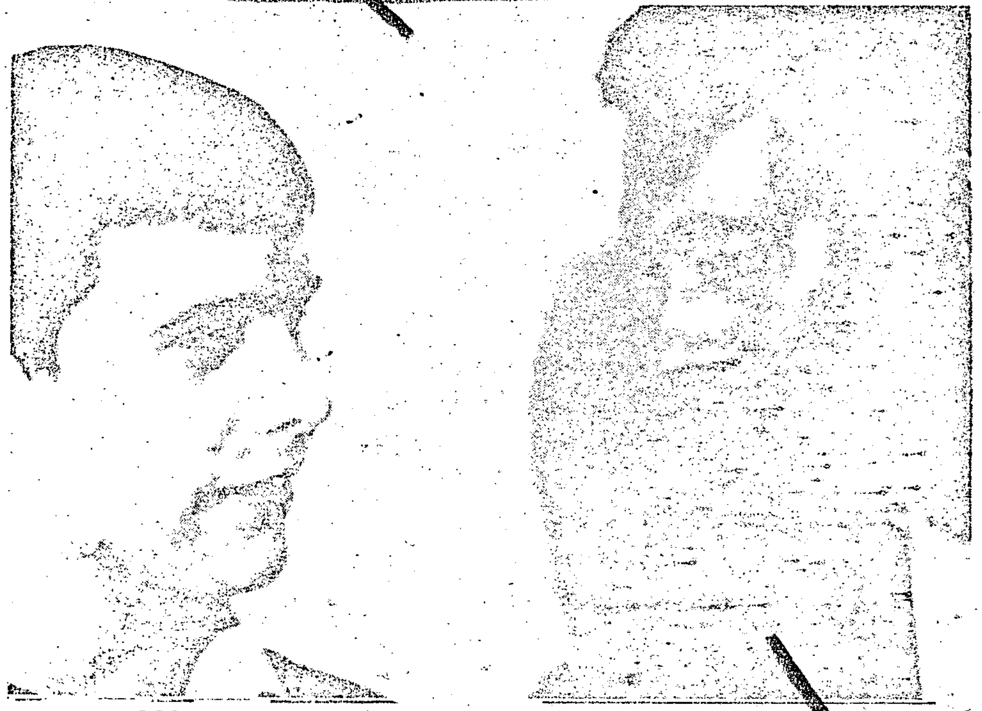
Every resister has his own bag in how he expresses his opposition. We do not advocate any one form as being better than another. If you are humanitarian enough to oppose inhuman aggressive wars such as those waged by the U.S. government, we are more than happy to help you.

We do, however, feel that you ARE wrong if you know that something is unjust about the war, but do nothing. Don't end up making illegitimate excuses when it's over. If you remain apathetic toward the hypocritical U.S. policy for duty in Vietnam, then be considered guilty of supporting an illegal war.

You may even be one of those who support the war. If so, we suggest you look into your reasoning. Many of us were once "hawks", but now see what the military extablishment was desperately trying to hide from us and is still hiding from you.

Have the courage to look for the truth.

Pvt. Richard Perrin, RA11748246



DICK PERRIN interviewed by STOKELY CARMICHAEL at a RITA press conference.

Why I Split

To begin with, let's not concern ourselves with the argument of whether violence is a good or bad thing. It exists and we must acknowledge the fact. It is neither good nor evil, it simply is. The question is how violence is used.

It has been used as an instrument against us when we oppose recruiters from the Pentagon, Dean Rusk, or president Johnson. It is used as an instrument against the black people in the course of their daily lives.

It is now being used against the Vietnamese people. Why? Because they are Communists, we're told. You can never make me believe that a man deserves to die, be injured, maimed or brutalized because of his political beliefs. Those who want American soldiers to believe this and fight in Vietnam are probably themselves living in luxury.

I left the Army because of the unjust actions committed in Vietnam. I sat down one day and thought about myself and the people of Vietnam. They have a hard life to put up with. I have no right to take their lives and they shouldn't be able to take mine.

Don't think I'm telling you to desert. What I do want you to remember is that the government exists to serve us; we are not simply its instrument.

Where it's at

We don't urge you to desert. That's a totally personal decision. Whatever your decision you should know about the legal and political situation in the various countries of Europe.

WHERE SERVICEMEN HAVE GONE: IN ORDER FROM BEST TO WORST

THE SAFEST COUNTRY IS SWEDEN:
Sweden gives full political rights to deserters. This means security from the Army, the chance to work and even the possibility for political action against the war. There are now over 70 deserters in Sweden.

THE DANISH GOVERNMENT HAS JOINED THE RANKS OF THOSE COUNTRIES OPENLY WELCOMING DESERTERS.

SWITZERLAND IS OK ONCE YOU ARE INSIDE. Contact a lawyer or newspaper.

FRANCE: France has granted short-term regularly renewed residence as well right to work to every deserter since last May. Opposition to the war by resisters has been limited in theory, but seldom in practice.

NORWAY, HOLLAND AND BELGIUM:
Are supposed to be unfriendly, but in fact try hard to avoid seeing things. It's still somewhat risky though. Some test cases are in progress and if you want to become one see a lawyer. INADAMNLUGO2PROVOS.

ENGLAND IS STILL A RISKY PLACE TO BE. ITALY IS BAD.
WEST GERMANY ARRESTS AND RETURNS.

AT THE BORDER: It is said that it helps to have or pretend to have some money (about $40), to be presentable, and if possible to have a birth certificate. If you have a passport use it. Hats cover GI haircuts.

IF YOU HAVE TROUBLE AT THE BORDER:
Army ID cards have been used for identification as a political refugee opposed to the war. You are probably safer in prison for a few days in a country like France or even Holland than in Germany where you will automatically be tunned over to the Army.

SERVICEMEN are invited to visit or write to the following to discuss the war and other issues:

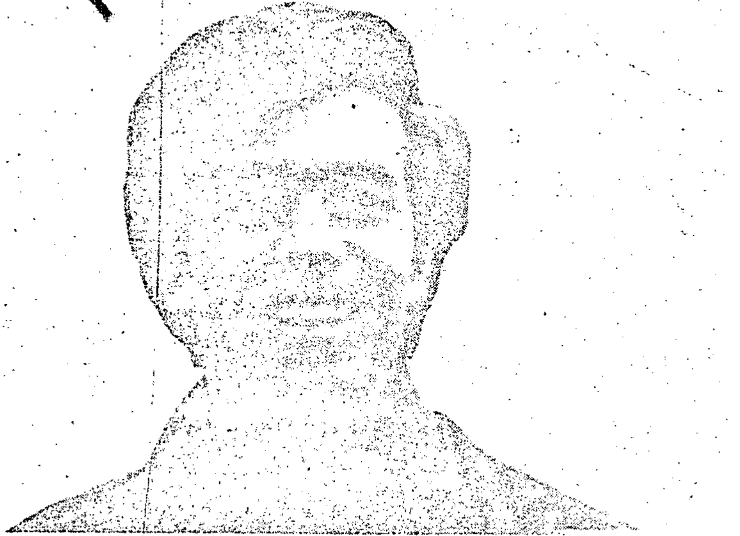
Peace Talks

Recently the Johnson government has begun peace talks on VN. Shortly after this announcement, the largest scale ground military action in the history of VN was launched. Its obvious that under it all, the government intends to carry on the war while everyone TALKS about peace. The idea is to lull the public back to sleep. They want people to think the war will soon be over and forgotten --- along with their guilt in sending thousands of young men to their death in an immoral war. The hard facts on VN right now are that (1) the "peace talks" could go on for a year or more, (2) the beginning of peace talks does not at all signal the ending of a war. MORE SOLDIERS WERE KILLED IN KOREA AFTER THE PEACE TALKS HAD BEGUN THAN BEFORE. THis means it is not over for us. It is necessary to continue pressuring our government by expressing our true feelings loudly and openly. We would like to hear what you think about the war. Write to our address.

Pvt. Philip Wagner, US56825183



Soon due for international release is a film by PHIL WAGNER telling why he left his Army base to carry on opposition to the war from abroad.

"Son,...."

A few months ago I was in my barracks when a friend asked me if I would like to accompany him to Frankfurt to hear a talk given by the SDS German-American Committee for Peace in Vietnam. Prior to this time I had ideas of my own about this cruel war, but I had not yet decided to act.

The people I found there are the TRULY FREE PEOPLE. They believe as I do in that you must live and let live, love and be loved. The Golden Rule would be the best policy if people would just practice it and live by it. Would you like it if a foreign power were to come to America and to do to you and your family what is being done to the Vietnamese people?..no, of course not.

In the Constitution, you are given certain rights which CANNOT be taken from you. Yet, the same government who gave you these rights says, "Son, for three years of your life, you must become our tool of destruction and for three years you have no rights!" Thus people believe them and submit to inhuman acts.

The Ten Commandments say "Thou shalt not kill" and yet our government says you must. Is this right? Answer this question in your heart.

The United States says it represents the "free world". Maybe to some people it does, but take a good long look at the American past and the American present. To me it says only one thing, race prejudice.

The American government can continue its senseless war only as long as it has mindless people to do its dirty work. If you don't believe in the war then find others with your ideas and join together in RITA-Resistance Inside the Armed Forces. I myself left the Army on the 16th of February and until they realize the mistakes they are making I shall not return. Only when they stop this useless killing will I return to my unit.

If you have a copy of the ACT don't hoard it. Show it to your friends. Maybe they too have the same idea as you.

RITA...

What is a RITA? A RITA is a Resister inside the Armed Forces, an American Serviceman who resists imperialistic aggression in S.E. Asia. His reasons may be political, pacifistic or whatever.

What is a Full-Time RITA? A full-time resister is a soldier who has temporarily left the Armed Forces to work against his country's inhuman aggression in S.E. Asia. He does not consider himself a deserter; usually he has the intention of returning after this war. He is neither unpatriotic, nor anti-American. He is merely an individual acting in the ways that he believes to be right and for the best human interests.

What is a FRITA? A friend of RITA, an American, European or other civilian who helps Ritas operate.

What do RITAs do? They organize resistance to the war such as the growing American Servicemen's Union (ASU) inside the Armed Forces. They provide a source of truth for GI's by distributing GI papers such as the BOND and by writing and editing the ACT. The RITA newsletter, ACT is put out by full-time resisters for the sole purpose of presenting the truth to American Servicemen who at one time or another will be called upon to serve the war machine.

RITAs and FRITAs are not tightly organized with officers membership or a given political line. Rather they are individuals of many political, religious and philosophical beliefs united in their opposition to this war.

RITAs and FRITAs work with any person, organization or group who will help American Servicemen fight against this war.

WE ARE MORE INTERESTED IN ACTS THAN IN WORDS.
CAN YOU HELP? YES!

Special on Canada

Pvt. Jeff Arnold (RA 16892876) writes to us from Canada: "I learned that a deserter cannot be extradited to the U.S. unless he was stationed in Canada when he deserted. Desertors are handled and processed exactly the same as draft resisters or anyone else wishing to become a Landed Immigrant of Canada. I am now in the process of applying for my status."

The problem is getting in, but it shouldn't be that difficult if you cross as a weekend tourist. Once there, contact any of the numerous peace groups. Just a few of the many possible places you can contact can be found in our "Where It's At" column.

American servicemen unite! You have nothing to lose but your stripes!

New goals outlined by Harris

By TIM TAYLOR

"That little piece of white paper that I'm asked to carry around that says 'Selective Service System of the United States' across the top of it—that's not a little piece of white paper, that's a man's death warrant," said draft resister David Harris yesterday.

Harris, former student body president at Stanford University and one of the founders of the Resistance, is now appealing a May 1968 conviction for refusing induction into the armed services. A three year prison sentence is pending.

"You and I must refuse any longer to be the messengers of death," Harris said. "We must refuse to sit back and condemn people around the world to butchery. To do that means you'll become what I am—a criminal. When the law has done nothing but sanctify endless blood, then I want nothing to do with the law."

Tall, sandy-haired, and clean-shaven, Harris spoke at noon before a large audience in Alumni Park. As always, he spoke without notes or any other kind of formally prepared text. He was calm throughout the speech, seldom raising his voice.

One of his main goals is to achieve a new meaning for brotherhood.

"As I look around me and try to find a statement that has both cogency and meaning in the context of a world of blood and oppression, I can find only one such statement," he said.

"It's a very simple statement: that all men are brothers. Why you and I must do is take that word, take it out of the realm of empty religious incantation, take it out of the realm of hollow ritual, and give it substance and meaning in our lives. That can only be done by people living that brotherhood from day to day to day."

He then compared his concept of brotherhood with the draft.

"When one attempts to live in that spirit of brotherhood, one runs immediately into one particular social institution. That institution has been euphemistically titled 'the Selective Service System of the United States.'"

"The Selective Service System of the United States is a euphemism for military conscription. Military conscription is a euphemism for taking a young man, whose hands might have built, whose hands might have healed, whose hands might have constructed for those around him, and instead of teaching his hands to heal or to build you teach his hands one simple fact: how to operate the mechanism of a rifle. You teach his eyes how to sight the rifle, then you send him 6,000 miles from home to kill or be killed by another young man who has gone through exactly the same process."

Harris also contended that the draft is out of place in a democracy, because an institution based on subservience does not fit in with the definition of democracy.

The most visible audience reaction came when Harris explained to what he feels he owes his allegience.

"We in the Resistance," he said, "owe no allegiance to a colored piece of cloth. We owe no allegiance to a set of governmental principles. We owe no allegiance to a set of people that enforce those governmental principles. You and I owe allegiance to only one thing: that's the fact of people's lives in the world today.

Harris closed his 20-minute speech by telling the audience that if they wanted to bring change, they would have to do it themselves.

"If you don't do it, it won't be done. There's no daddy anymore. There's no Lone Ranger—just you and me. If it is to be done, then you and I will have to do it."

A pamphlet captioned "The Resistance" and issued by this organization states in part as follows:

"The Resistance is a national movement which aims at undermining the Selective Service System by taking the position of complete and open noncooperation with the draft. Its origins can be attributed to the highly publicized draft card burnings at the April 15th Mobilization in New York, and to the determination of a number of students on the West Coast, principally at Stanford and Berkeley, to channel individual acts of noncooperation into a politically effective movement against the war and the draft".

II. GENERAL ACTIVITIES

A. New York Area Demonstrations

1. United States Armed Forces Induction Center (USAFIC), Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, New York, June 17, 1968

Literature issued by The Resistance, 5 Beekman Street, New York City, disclosed that a demonstration sponsored by this organization was scheduled for 7:30 AM, June 17, 1968, at the USAFIC, Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, New York, in support of FRED ROSEN, "One of the original organizers of the New York Resistance", and JOEL FLAX, who previously returned his draft card on April 3, 1968. This leaflet also states that ROSEN and FLAX will both refuse induction into the Armed Forces of the United States.

NY T-1
June 14, 1968

On June 17, 1968, in the vicinity of the Main Gate located at the USAFIC, Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, New York, at 7:10 AM, demonstrators were observed assembling in the area.

Subsequently, approximately twenty individuals participated in a picket line demonstration carrying signs and placards which read:

"Today Fred Rosen and Joel Flax Refuse the Draft",
"Joel Will Refuse Today",
"Fred Will Refuse Today",
"Resist",
"Hell No, Joel Won't Go"

The above activity terminated at 8:40 AM with no incidents or arrests occurring.

2. United States Court House
Foley Square, New York City
June 26, 1968

On June 26, 1968, a crowd was observed gathering in the vicinity of the United States Court House, Foley Square, New York City.

At 10:10 AM, a spontaneous picket line demonstration began in front of the Court House with pickets carrying signs which read as follows:

"The Selective Service System is Involuntary Servitude",
"Catholic Worker Supports Draft Refusal",
"Aid, Counsel, and Abet Resistance to the Draft",
"Tom Cornell - Cream of American Middle Age",
"One Goes to Prison for Murder and Another Refusing to Kill",
"Burn Cards not Kids - Catholic Peace Fellowship",
"The Resistance"

At the height of this activity, eighty individuals were observed participating in the picket line with everyone carrying balloons and distributing flowers to passers-by.

A leaflet distributed during this activity disclosed the picket line as being sponsored by The Catholic Peace Fellowship, The Catholic Worker and The Resistance.

At 11:59 AM, a United States Marshal's van arrived at the scene and arrested an individual identified as THOMAS CORNELL for violation of the Selective Service Act, 1948. CORNELL was removed from the picket line and carried by the United States Marshals to the van. This arrest was effected without incident.

Literature Issued and/or Distributed

An SA of the FBI obtained a leaflet from an unidentified demonstrator entitled "On Going to Jail", which was issued by the organizations mentioned above.

The following page of this report is a Xerox copy of the above-described leaflet.

ON GOING TO JAIL

> "Blessed are the poor....the peacemakers...
> Blessed are you when they revile you and persecute you and > speak all that is evil against you, untruly, for my sake.
> Rejoice and be glad."

That's why we are having a celebration this morning. Two of us are going to be seized by federal marshals here at Foley Square in a few minutes to begin serving prison sentences for burning our draft cards. So what's to celebrate?

For one thing, six months in prison is a small price to pay for not having to kill a man. For another, we are trying to believe that we are indeed blessed, happy, when they persecute us for the sake of Christ and His poor. The powers of wealth against the poor, the powers of suppression, the forces of death have nothing but their prisons with which to intimidate our country's youth from following the call of conscience to renounce all war and violence. So we will try to look at their prisons with the eyes of the Gospel, as an opportunity to identify with and minister to the imprisoned, to reflect and renew ourselves, in the hope that many more young men will refuse to take their assigned roles in the charades of the state, registering for the draft, carrying their death certificates (draft cards) and serving in their armies.

REJOICE AND BE GLAD!

3. USAFIC
39 Whitehall Street
New York City, July 1, 1968

Literature issued by The Resistance, 5 Beekman Street, New York City, disclosed that a demonstration sponsored by this organization was scheduled for 6:45 AM, July 1, 1968, at the USAFIC, 39 Whitehall Street, New York City, in support of Reverend ROBERT PRICE who would refuse military induction into the Armed Forces of the United States.

NY T-1
June 28, 1968

On July 1, 1968, at 6:45 AM, a crowd was observed gathering in front of the USAFIC, supra.

At 7:02 AM, a picket line was conducted in front of the Induction Center manned by approximately one hundred pickets who carried no signs or placards.

At 7:28 AM, an individual self-identified as Reverend PRICE entered the Induction Center without incident receiving loud applause from his supporters gathered outside. Subsequently, this picket line ended with the crowd milling around and dwindling until 8:25 AM.

The following individuals were observed participating in the picket line described above:

EDWARD FIELDS
MARTIN JEZER
STEPHEN SUFFET

Special Agents, FBI
July 1, 1968

An SA of the FBI obtained a leaflet distributed at the above activity captioned "Statement of Rev. Robert Price", which contained information regarding PRICE's refusal to report for induction into the military.

The following page of this report is a Xerox copy of the above-described leaflet.

STATEMENT OF REV. ROBERT PRICE

This morning I will refuse to be inducted into the Armed Forces of the United States. My action is consistent with what I consider to be the best Christian tradition and the purest American patriotism.

Christianity proclaims that life is the supreme human good. The Old Testament message of creation and blessing and the New Testament good news of incarnation and resurrection affirm life. In the next six hours, twelve Americans and dozens more Vietnamese will die in Vietnam. Bombs will rain down destruction upon a once-beautiful land and ancient culture, violating every constraint which sets minimal standards for the conduct of wars. Manpower and resources desperately needed in the fight to eradicate poverty and hunger in the world are wasted in senseless violence. American prestige and honor will continue to wither away in a conflict that would be folly were it not tragedy.

I have been ordered to report for induction today because I have freed myself from complicity with this immoral war. I have returned to the draft authorities my registration card which symbolizes the unconstitutional control which Selective Service exerts over individuals. I have relinquished the 4-D exemption which the System confers on me as an ordained Methodist minister; I refuse to accept this privileged status while my less fortunate brothers are drafted. I remain willing to serve my country in a civilian capacity as a conscientious objector to this particular war, but Selective Service will not consider my claim.

I am advised by legal counsel that the actions which I have taken in response to the dictates of conscience are within the rights which are guaranteed to me by the Constitution of the United States. I refuse to recognize the illegitimate authority of the peacetime draft when it demands that I relinquish these rights. Moreover I stand on the principle of international law, established at Nuremburg, which is a part of the law of our land, that an individual has legal duties and responsibilities which transcent those to his country.

I am proud to join today the ranks of the hundreds of American men who have said "No!" to the unjust and immoral war in Vietnam and the repressive and discriminatory draft. We act in hope - hope that our nation will return to the principles upon which it was founded: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Whatever be the results of our action, we must respond to the call of conscience. "We must obey God rather than men."

4. USAFIC
39 Whitehall Street
New York City, July 2, 1968

Literature issued by The Resistance, 5 Beekman Street, New York City, disclosed that a demonstration sponsored by this organization was scheduled for 6:30 AM, July 2, 1968, at the USAFIC, 39 Whitehall Street, New York City, in support of BARRY JOHNSON who would refuse military induction that date.

NY T-1
June 28, 1968

The activity described above will take place on July 2, 1968, but additional literature issued by The Resistance further disclosed that "a support procession" would form at 6:30 AM in front of St. Paul's Chapel at the corner of Broadway and Fulton Street, New York City.

NY T-1
July 1, 1968

On July 2, 1968, 6:25 AM, persons were observed entering St. Paul's Chapel, supra. The number of individuals present in the chapel was approximately two hundred.

At 7:10 AM, St. Paul's Chapel emptied, thereafter, several speeches were delivered by members of the clergy on the chapel steps denouncing the draft and the involvement of the United States in the Vietnam war. An individual self-identified as Reverend RICHARD JOHN NEUHAUS, editor of "Una Sancta" and pastor of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Brooklyn, New York, served as spokesman of the group assembled on the chapel steps.

Reverend NEUHAUS announced that the following persons would chain themselves to BARRY JOHNSON who would refuse military induction in order to dramatize their support of his induction refusal:

Rabbi BALFOUR BRICKNER, Director of Interfaith Activities for the Union of American Hebrew Congregations

Reverend RICHARD R. FERNANDEZ, National Director of Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam (CLAV)

Reverend Doctor GEORGE W. WEBBER, Professor of Church and Community, Union Theological Seminary, New York City

Mrs. ROBERT RANSAM, Bronxville, New York, mother of son recently killed in Vietnam

Mrs. IRMA ZIGAS, Chairman, Anti-Draft Committee, Women Strike for Peace (WSP)

CAROL JOHNSON, wife of BARRY JOHNSON

At this point, short pieces of chain were produced and padlocked to the wrists of the individuals mentioned above including Reverend NEUHAUS.

At 7:25 AM, the above group chained together led approximately two hundred supporters south on Broadway to the USAFIC, supra, arriving there without incident at 7:42 AM.

Signs carried by supporters stated:

"Support Barry Johnson"
"End the Draft-End the War"
"No to the Draft"

Upon arrival at the Induction Center, speeches were given by members of the group chained together which generally were critical of the draft and the involvement of the United States in the Vietnam war.

In addition to the above talks, which were barely audible due to noise caused by nearby construction and passing traffic, Reverend WILLIAM SLOANE COFFIN, JR. was initially observed addressing the group of supporters gathered around the steps of the Induction Center. Reverend COFFIN was not chained to the other supporters.

Reverend COFFIN praised the "courageous young men" resisting the draft and urged that more members of the clergy in the New York City area support young men like BARRY JOHNSON in their struggle against the draft.

At 8:05 AM, JOHNSON rapped on the door of the Induction Center and attempted to report for induction chained to his supporters but was refused entrance by military officials. JOHNSON announced to the group of supporters that the military would not allow him to report for induction chained to his supporters and that he would wait ten minutes and again attempt to report.

At 8:16 AM, JOHNSON, who was still chained to his supporters, again rapped on the door to the Induction Center and was refused entrance unless he would enter by himself.

At 8:18 AM, JOHNSON announced to the crowd that the military would not allow him to report for induction and therefore he was going home. JOHNSON thanked everyone for their support and announced that Reverend ROBERT MC AFEE BROWN, professor ofreligion at Stanford University, had in his possession the key to the padlocks securing the chains to the wrists of his supporters. At this time, Reverend BROWN unleashed the chains.

At 8:25 AM, JOHNSON departed from the Induction Center and the crowd of supporters present dispersed without incident.

Special Agents, FBI
July 2, 1968

On July 2, 1968, EDWARD FIELDS, an organizer for The Resistance, stated that the demonstration for BARRY JOHNSON had been initiated by his organization, however, the activity and proceedings in support of JOHNSON had been taken over by the CLAV.

NY T-1
July 2, 1968

A copy of a press release issued by the CLAV which on page one contained a statement issued by Reverend COFFIN, supra, which read "'the trial in Boston has not affected my obligations as a clergyman at all. Every clergyman should support a man like Barry Johnson who stands as a selective conscientious objector, now with the complete backing of his own church.'"

On page two of this press release it states that JOHNSON is a former employee of the CLAV. A prepared statement issued by JOHNSON and attached to this press release states in part "today my wife and I stand with friends in the chain of common bondage, confessing our guilt and responsibility for the injustice at home and abroad which has taken place in our names. We stand not because we are sure others will be influenced or even listen, but because our common search for justice demands this of us."

July 2, 1968

"The New York Times", a daily New York City newspaper, issue of July 3, 1968, on page 37, under an article entitled "9 in Chains Stage Draft Protest", reveals that in addition to the individuals identified above as being chained to JOHNSON there was another individual by the name of MARK LUNDEEN, "a draft resister himself who was a fellow student with Mr. JOHNSON at Union Theological Seminary", who was also chained.

PRESS RELEASE

From: THE RESISTANCE
5 BEEKMAN STREET
NEW YORK CITY 10038 telephone: RE-2-4272

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Ronald Steven Rosen, 20, a member of the Resistance, will refuse induction 8:00 AM Thursday, July 25 at Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn. Mr. Rosen returned his draft card to the federal government on October 16, 1967 as part of a nation-wide action sponsored by the Resistance. As a result, Mr. Rosen was declared "delinquent" by his local board, #78 in Staten Island.

Mr. Rosen was graduated from Port Richmond High School. He attended Pace College briefly, and later worked as a karate instructor at the Free School of New York. He has been active in the peace and civil rights movements for several years. He participated in the Selma-to-Montgomery Freedom Walk in 1965, and has been arrested several times, most recently during Stop-the-Draft Week in New York last December. For refusing induction, Mr. Rosen faces up to five years in federal prison.

Friends, family, and other members of the Resistance will hold a Celebration of Life outside the gates of Ft. Hamilton in support of Ron Rosen.

Protester Gives Blood As 'Symbol'

By LEONARD NOVARRO

Ron Rosen of Graniteville is against the war in Vietnam. But yesterday he gave his blood for those who have died there —at least symbolically.

He and several other anti-war protesters participating in the 24-hour peace vigil and fast in front of Community Church in Manhattan took time off to donate their blood.

"It was done in communion with those who have given their blood in Vietnam. We share our blood willingly with them," he said.

"But in our case, we gave it to a hospital, as a constructive act, rather than see it spilled in Vietnam."

The donors took turns to leave the vigil every hour to trek the Metropolitan Hospital where they gave their blood.

Rosen, who is 19, spent the day unlike most other fellows his age. He stood in front of the church in the clammy fog, met with an occasional jeer. It was a sort of a price to pay for commitment.

He explained how he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rosen, of 876 Richmond Ave., were solidly against the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosen spent time at the vigil early in the morning before going to work and were to return last night.

The demonstration began the night before, after a rally in tribute to Dr. Benjamin Spock at Manhattan Center.

There weren't many more than 20 persons at one time who stood in front of the church without food or drink, except for an occasional sip of water.

The scene is not a new one for Rosen. He is currently on file with the Selective Service as a delinquent, having turned his draft card into the Attorney General's office in Washington, D.C.

He expects to be inducted within a few weeks," and when the time comes, "I will refuse," he said. "My parents back me all the way."

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lenny Brody, a 25-year-old organizer for The Resistance, will refuse to be inducted into the Armed Forces on Thursday, August 8, 1968, at Fort Hamilton in Brooklyn. A supporting demonstration of Mr. Brody's friends and relatives has been organized by The Resistance and will begin at 7:30 AM.

Mr. Brody is a graduate of the City College of New York and is currently on a leave of absence from graduate school at Brooklyn College, where he had been studying sociology. Born in Brooklyn, Lenny attended Tilden High School.

Lenny has been active in the civil rights and anti-war movements for several years. Mr. Brody did civil rights organizing in South Carolina during the summers of 1965 and 1966. He was one of the original organizers of the New York Resistance in the spring of 1967. Mr. Brody returned his draft card on October 16, 1967, as a part of a nation-wide anti-draft demonstration organized by The Resistance. He was subsequently reclassified from I-Y, deferred status, to I-A, eligible for induction, because of his position of non-cooperation with Selective Service.

Mr. Brody has stated that he will not enter the Armed Forces of the United States until "the army has become one with the people so they see it as their own army." [Chairman Mao Tse-tung, Quotations from Chairman Mao]

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

JOHN MONKS is refusing induction into the Armed Forces on WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1968 at 7:30 a.m. at the FORT HAMILTON INDUCTION CENTER, IN BROOKLYN.

John states:

> Today, October 2nd, I am refusing induction into the Armed Forces. My conscience allows for no other choice. I can not cooperate with a system that carries on the killing and destruction of the people of Vietnam. My resistance in this regards holds some very personal connotations in that I have served as a Peace Corps volunteer in that very same part of the world. It does not make any sense at all that I should now go back there to kill. All my efforts in working for peace would be totally negated.
> My resistance today goes beyond the realities of the draft and the immoral and unjust war in Vietnam. I am deeply concerned about the status of the present political and social structure in our country which fails to respond to the unbelievably pressing issues of poverty, racism and institutional and police repression. While the voice of the people cries out for change and action, the government arms for war and repression, here and abroad.
> Finally, let me add that I fully realize that my act today is by no means going to bring about change and peace. But I believe that it is a step in the right direction. I can no longer stand the sidelines. It is a beginning.

A supporting demonstration for JOHN will take place outside the Fort. It will consist of friends of John and fellow members and supporters of The Resistance.

At 7:05 AM, this group walked quietly without incident to the USAFIC, 39 Whitehall Street, New York City, where a silent vigil was established.

Upon arrival at the Induction Center, JAMES NISS was observed entering the Induction Center without incident.

One sign was observed being carried which read: "Quaker Witness for Peace to Support our Friend James Niss who Today is Refusing Induction".

Brothers and Sisters,

(This is a desperate request for funds, followed by a calendar of upcoming events, meetings, etc., a listing of projects already underway, and reports of things which have happened.)

We need people who will get off their asses and do something about the prevailing absurdity. If you want to help, WRITE US A CHECK, drop into the Resistance office, or call us (RE 2-4272) and volunteer to do some work organizing against insanity. WE ARE NON-COOPERATING WITH THE GOVERNMENT, NOT THE RESISTANCE.

Repeat, our situation is desperate. We have only one week's operating expenses in our account. We need people to write checks to help us keep the wolf away from the door.

We could have written a fancy fund appeal letter signed by some famous person in the Resistance movement, but the office staff and the organizers are too busy working on the projects we have underway for which we need the money. What's more, we all know what the Resistance is about and how important an organization it is without having a well-known person say it for us. We are doing a million things, all of which are very important. Aside from the projects listed below, we are writing and printing up new leaflets, we are organizing non-cooperation, we are counselling about 25 men a week (many with induction order in hand who won't go), and we are constantly organizing supporting demonstrations and getting bail money and lawyers for resisters.

In spite of and because of all this important work, we need base things like money. We have $500 in our account. Our operating expenses are over $2000 a month already, and we will soon be evicted from our rent free office (WRL has been donating the space). Unless we can raise alot of money and raise it fast, we aren't even going to make it through the summer (when fund-raising is hardest) to organize for the national turn-in on November 14 and to work on college campuses next fall. Lets prove to ourselves that we are important and that we want to stay in existence.

We need financial support to sustain and expand our program. We have about a dozen full-time people working in NYC. We are only able to afford to pay 3 or 4 of them at present because of our financial crisis. (Pay means $25 a week.) Several of our staff will have to quit or get other jobs if they can't be paid soon. We have many more people who can work if we can find the money to support them. We need rent money, money for printing expenses, counselling materials, telephone bills, postage, etc., if we are to continue to function.

YOU CAN HELP by sending a check made out to The Resistance to The Resistance, 5 Beekman St., Room 1025, NYC 10038. You can help us raise money by contacting friends. We will send a member of the Resistance to speak informally to small groups about our activities and our purpose.

Some people leaflet the pre-inductees and the inductees at WHITEHALL AND FORT HAMILTON some mornings, but not every morning. It would be nice if some people would come who could stay till 9:30 to greet the buses of inductees, and if more people would come to cover more days. Please call and say you'll do it.

At least one group of high school students is setting up a HIGH SCHOOL FREE SCHOOL. More can be set up. Call the Workshop in Nonviolence at 227-0973 if interested.

NON-COOPERATION CONFERENCES will be starting soon. Call us in you are interested.

We bought a PRINTING PRESS which should be in operation soon if we have enough money and a place to put it. We are still looking for a STORE FRONT in the East Village (all the peace groups at 5 Beekman will be evicted soon and need a new office); if you know of one that is available, please let us know.

A BEACH PROJECT is underway in Rockaway; let's spread the tide of Resistance and start some more-Resisters are needed to rap to people on the beaches.

We are trying to contact guys who have been arrested or indicted for refusing induction (the COURTS furnish us with their names, not too willingly!) and offer them our help in case they don't know about us.

STUDY GROUPS - Fred is setting them up. Call him at the office if interested.
WEEKLY RAP SESSIONS - see calendar
WE NEED - beach umbrellas for the beach project; matresses, dressers, and sheets for the Brooklyn commune; people to work on projects
SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS - We would like to spread the Resistance Gospel. If you enjoy speaking or if you can set up speaking engagements for other resistance people, please let us know.

DON BATY - has been visited several times since he was jailed - he is not eating and he is refusing to work in the jail, but he is drinking coffee with milk and sugar and taking vitamins - Judge Zavatt has said that he will not allow Don into his court until Don is willing to walk and Don will not walk if he is handcuffed - we will see what happens and keep you informed. Any messages you want to get in to him can be forwarded through Jill at the office (RE 2-4272).

BOB SIMON - On Wednesday, June 19, Bob was indicted on the charge of DRAFT CARD BURNING - he burned his card Nov. 8th - he refused induction June 5

WOMEN'S DRAFT CARD BURNING - two women in the NY Resistance, Amanda Wayne and Jill Boskey joined 9 other women in burning draft cards outside the Supreme Court Building in Washington, D. C., Monday, June 17. At the end of the demonstration, Frank Femia, who poured black paint on draft board files in Boston, was arrested for draft refusal and there were attempts to block the arrest. Frank is now out on bail after water fasting for five days. The women are awaiting action by the Justice Department.

RON MOYER - the NY resister who took sanctuary in Providence should be out of jail at last by the time you receive this. His bail was set quite high. Bail is one of our money needs.

DAVE MILLER - the first guy to burn a draft card after the law against burning was passed was arrested from a picket line in Foley Square, Wednesday, June 19. He is serving a 2 & 1/2 year sentence.

SPOCK SUPPORT AND MORE WOMEN'S DRAFT CARD BURNINGS - On Thursday, June 20, in Foley Square, 7 New York women burned draft cards in support of Spock and his co-defendants and in violation of the law against draft card burning. We hope the movement of women saying yes to men who say no by burning draft cards will continue to spread.

SKIP KITTREDGE - was sentenced to 2 years for draft refusal in Providence, RI on June 21. He is a New York resister. We will try to keep you informed about how he's doing.

TOM CORNELL - appeared in Foley Square on June 26 to be taken to jail for draft card burning. He had a celebration with balloons and flowers because "Blessed are you when they revile you and persecute you and speak all that is evil against you, untruly, for my sake. Rejoice and be glad."

Hope to be seeing all of you at the dinner and the meeting on July 2, and at all the other events in the calendar. In the meantime, drop by the office and say hello. We miss you. We want to know how you are and where you are at.

IN LOVE AND LIBERATION,

The Resistance

The Resistance is a national movement which aims at undermining the Selective Service System by taking the position of complete and open noncooperation with the draft. Its origins can be attributed to the highly publicized draft card burnings at the April 15th Mobilization in New York, and to the determination of a number of students on the West Coast, principally at Stanford and Berkeley, to channel individual acts of noncooperation into a politically effective movement against the war and the draft. The Resistance carried out its first nationwide action on October 16, 1967, when approximately 1400 young men in nearly thirty cities across the United States and in several European cities returned their draft cards to federal officials and announced publicly that they would no longer cooperate in any way with Selective Service. On November 16, in Boston and on December 4, throughout the rest of the nation, approximately 600 more resisters turned in draft cards, and close to 1000 men followed suit on April 3. Looking ahead, the momentum of the movement will continue as local groups sponsor their own days of noncooperation and individuals respond at their own pace. Between April 3 and mid-April, Boston had already received more than 40 new cards and the Bay Area had had about 25, most of them coming through individual responses or ad hoc demonstrations which took little or no planning. Another nationwide day of noncooperation is planned for November 14.

* * * * * * *

Ever since the establishment of peacetime conscription in 1948, a small number of conscientious objectors have chosen to go to jail rather than cooperate with Selective Service (or, in certain cases, with military authorities), and the number of such persons has increased significantly since the Vietnam war became a major national issue. David Mitchell, the Fort Hood Three, and Ron Lockman are only the most celebrated examples of a trend that has accelerated rapidly in recent years. With few exceptions, however, these cases have been individual acts of conscience, with little thought or hope of political effectiveness. The Resistance stands in this tradition of conscientious noncooperation, but as a movement it aims at political effectiveness and it is based upon a radical critique of American society and foreign policy. The Resistance national statement for October 16 declared our refusal to cooperate in any way with Selective Service "because it is an integral part of a system that pursues a brutal war in Southeast Asia, that actively opposes attempts at social revolution in the underdeveloped world, that exploits the black people of America, that maintains institutions over which ordinary citizens exercise virtually no control."

Ultimately, the movement must be judged not merely by its rhetoric, but by the accuracy of its analysis and by its ability to mobilize young men for a meaningful and potentially successful confrontation with Selective Service. A useful means for analyzing the nature and functions of Selective Service is the pamphlet entitled Channeling, an official memorandum issued in July 1965. Channeling makes it clear that the purpose of the System is not only manpower recruitment for military needs but a far-reaching program of manpower control as well. By means of what the pamphlet eupehmisitically calls "channeling," "pressurized guidance," and in a less cautious moment, the "club of induction," the National Security and the national director of Selective Service seek to direct the lives of American young men into institutions and vocations which it defines as in "the national interest." In speaking of the circumstantial climate in which the System forces students to make decisions about their future, Channeling comments:

> Throughout his career as a student the pressure — the threat of loss of deferment — continues. It continues with equal intensity after graduation . . . . He is impelled to pursue his skill rather than embark upon some less important enterprise and is encouraged to apply his skill in an essential activity in the national interest. The loss of deferred status is the consequence for the individual who has acquired the skill and either does not use it or uses it in a nonessential activity.

With considerable self-satisfaction, the author of the pamphlet concludes that "the psychology of granting wide choice under pressure to take action is the American or indirect way of achieving what is done by direction in foreign countries where choice is not permitted."

It is becoming more and more clear that the System's definition of the national interest is dangerous and reactionary, and that channeling constitutes an intolerable violation of the freedom and integrity of those whom it seeks to control. For these and other reasons, many of us are no longer willing to recognize the authority of Selective Service, but the question of how to undermine the power of that System is too often joined with little or no reference to the points at which the System is most vulnerable to resistance.

For purposes of strategy, it is vitally important to distinguish between the System's two major functions: manpower recruitment and manpower control. In the foreseeable future it is probably not within the power of the draft resistance movement to impede Selective Service's ability to carry out successfully its manpower recruitment function, for its success in this realm is contingent only upon its ability to fill a fairly small quota every month, drawn largely from among young men who are far less likely than students to have developed an intellectual and political critique of the American way of exploitation.

Manpower control, however, is quite another matter, for here the quota is every young man in the U.S. who has not served in the armed forces. Success in this realm may be contingent only upon its ability of the System to control virtually all of these young men — its ability to force them to carry a draft card, accept classification, and allow themselves to be channeled in directions which Selective Service's elite defines as in the national interest.

The achievement of a deferment, by whatever means, preserves individuals from having to choose between the army, prison, or exile. It may be possible, through agressive counselling, to win deferments for many young men now presently quite unaware of the many ways to "beat the draft." But it is ludicrous to think that such an approach constitutes an effective draft resistance movement. For the System has a vast and continually growing reservoir of manpower upon which to draw. In the area of manpower control, however, the potential success is relative not to the number of enlistees, the ever expanding number of registrants, or the manpower needs of the military at any given time. It is relative only to the ability of the System to absorb and effectively contain "x" number of open noncooperators without placing undue strains upon the judicial and prison machinery of the federal government and without raising urgent political questions about the draft and the militaristic foreign policy for which it forms a key foundation stone.

In short, the Selective Service System is able to perform one of its primary functions only because large numbers of young men who find the norms and functions of that System intolerable are willing, in however minimal a way, to acquiesce in its dictates. Our refusal to acquiesce in that System's dictates might well expose the power of Selective Service as illusory.

To seek to expose that power as illusory, however, forces us to face the risk of a jail sentence of up to five years and a fine of up to $10,000. We in the Resistance recognize that the moral integrity and the political effectiveness of our position are based entirely upon our willingness to face up to that threat and to see our confrontation through to its logical conclusion. Few, if any, of us want to go to prison; but do the most frequently suggested alternatives have any political content? Obviously one can play no role in the political struggle in America from the sanctuary of Canada. And while there are perhaps those who could operate effectively from the "underground," it is undeniable that as soon as a movement operating from such a posture achieved any effectiveness, the government would choose to expose and destroy it through its own elaborate "underground" apparatus. For, regrettably, the U.S. Government has amassed a wealth of experience in the game of espionage, infiltration, and subversion.

It is important to deal with the risk of prison in a realistic perspective. In the recent past the average prison sentence for the noncooperation has been between two and three years, and whatever the length of a sentence, one becomes eligible for parole after serving one-third of his time. Thus, while it is essential to avoid romantic illusions about prison, grim visions of "rotting in jail" may be based upon an equally grotesque romanticism. Likewise, it might be naive to assume the government will not be able to meet the increased demand for prison facilities.

The risk of prison must also be weighed in the context of a war in Vietnam which has already inflicted enormous suffering upon the Vietnamese people and which continues to escalate toward an ever more grim crescendo, as well as in the context of the future "Vietnams" which are the inevitable fruits of a policy of neo-imperialism and counterrevolution. Moreover, it is important that we recognize the threat of jail for what it is — a weapon which channels and demoralizes us so that the System may continue to function unimpaired. When thousands of us declare with our lives that we will not be cowed by this threat, the power of this weapon is to some extent blunted and the foundations of the System are further eroded. It is foolish to underestimate the power of one's adversary, but in the case of Selective Service we must recognize that the basis of its power in our acquiescence, and our refusal to acquiesce exposes the System's acute vulnerability.

Critics of the Resistance argue that it is impossible to organize an effective movement when all of its organizers are in jail. This charge belies too static a conception of our situation. Of course, if all the members of the Resistance could be jailed quickly, it might be possible to destroy the movement by that means. On the other hand, the publicity derived from such large-scale repression might, as the Justice Department well knows, serve only to crystallize support for the Resistance. Thus, at the moment, the government is following a policy of selective repression, as is evident in the recent indictments of Spock, Coffin, Raskin, Ferber, and Goodman in Boston and the unprecedented speed with which David Harris was indicted after refusing induction in Oakland on January 17. Whatever the long-term implications of these indictments, in the short run they have served as an impetus to the growth of the movement. Thousands of people across the country have come forward to establish or further underline their complicity with young men resisting the draft. And in Boston, rather spontaneously, twenty-five men turned in draft cards at a worship service following the arraignment of the five "conspirators" on January 29. The government's decision to prosecute such figures as Benjamin Spock and William Sloane Coffin, and the likelihood that it will indict other persons of national reputation in the near future, may well play an indispensable role in raising the vital issues at stake and in broadening our base of support.

But whatever the government's response, the slowness of the judicial process assures that many of us will remain free to organize for many months. And we are confident that as the Resistance grows, new leadership will emerge to carry on the organizational work. For in a movement which seeks to draw upon the energy, idealism, and abilities of students and other young people, those who regard themselves as irreplaceable organizers are clearly suffering from a self-delusive sense of their own importance.

In the final analysis, our response to America's pattern of repression and stagnation must derive from a careful analysis of our strength relative to that of the institutions we seek to change and undermine. The last few years, culminating in the Detroit rebellion of 1967, suggest that the United States has an enormous capacity to absorb, contain, and assimilate itself to violent activity. In fact it may be that in the major industrial powers of the West, particularly the United States, the preponderance of military power and technological resources in the hands of the state threatens to reduce the right of revolution, traditionally the final expression of popular will and power, to an exercise in suicide. In this context, it is important to abandon hackneyed cliches and traditional notions about revolution and to concentrate instead upon an effective use of our limited resources. The Resistance, however revolutionary the aspirations of some of its adherents, seems to be on solid ground in its application of intense pressure at the Selective Service System's most vulnerable point. If this pressure can be joined to the growing base of opposition to the Vietnam war and to the militarization of our national way of life, then there is some hope of bringing about significant changes in our pattern of values, priorities, and institutions.

• • • • • • •

A footnote on community: Many Resistance members are deeply concerned with the formation of community, and in some instances our common commitment is leading to the development of strong communal bonds. For at least two reasons this must continue to be a central concern. First, it would be impossible for most of us to face up to the tasks ahead, particularly the prospect of prison, were it not for the strength which derived from the experience of community. The Palo Alto Resistance, which has revolved around the life of a remarkable intentional community for more than a year now, is the clearest and most formal achievement of the community we seek. But, in less formal ways, the same patterns of interdependence are emerging elsewhere.

Secondly, the formation of community may bear an essential relationship to the shape of the future. Already, after only a few years of existence, the radical movement of the 1960's stands in danger of being consumed by its alienation from — and, in many cases, its hatred of — the old order. History demonstrates the paradoxical fact that those who are most intense in their desire for a freer and more humane order often fall victim to the dehumanizing aspects of their struggle. If radicals are to remain faithful to their own values, then they must create mechanisms in which those values can not only be expressed but also experienced in the present. As Richard Shaull comments in his essay in Containment and Change, "the shape of the new order becomes most clear, not through the definition of a set of ideals, but in a living community which expresses and at the same time points to a new reality of social existence, and provides a laboratory in which its diverse aspects can be experimentally worked out."

In the context of America 1968, it is possible to assert that the most political option before us is the act wherein thousands of young people reclaim possession of their lives from a System which seeks to manipulate those lives for the purposes of death and repression. Many of us are beginning to recognize that peace is more than a function of government; it is a way of life that must begin with ourselves, our relationships, and our communities. The formation of community grows out of that recognition, and it does not serve as a substitute for engagement. Rather the experience of community sustains us in the political struggle which must be waged relentlessly if we are to make America safe for the world. We urge you to join us, brothers. It's your struggle too!

DO YOU KNOW...?

Many young men feel so strongly about the draft and the war, that rather than obey the Selective Service law, they publicly break it, and thereby risk up to five years in Federal prison.

On April 15, 1967, over 150 men publicly burned their draft cards in New York City.

On October 16, 1967, over 1200 men returned their draft cards to the United States government, throughout the country.

On December 4, 1967, over 550 men returned their draft cards.

On April 3, 1968, over 800 men returned their draft cards.

An increasing number of young men publicly refuse to register with the draft when they turn eighteen years old.

If they wanted to, a good number of these men could get draft deferments or exemptions as students, ministers, skilled workers, or conscientious objectors. However, they have chosen to confront and resist the draft, and not cooperate with it at all.

Many young men are simply refusing to be inducted into the Armed Forces:

Of those called for induction in St. Louis, 2 men a month refuse to be inducted.

Minneapolis-St. Paul averages 1 induction refusal a week.

New York City averages more than 2 refusals a week. There are often double and triple induction refusals on one day in New York.

Boston averages more than 3 refusals a week. One day in Boston, 5 men refused induction.

Los Angeles averages more than 7 refusals a week. On one day in Los Angeles, 11 men refused induction.

San Francisco sometimes has as many as 30 induction refusals in one week.

Although "peace hopes" are high, the Vietnam war continues to be fought even more fiercely than in the past. Future Vietnams are brewing in all of Asia, Africa, and Latin America, as well as in the cities of America. The moral and political burdens of the draft are still with us.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE DRAFT?

Because you live in the United States today, you are trapped by the draft. There are only a handful of alternatives. The government doesn't tell you what they are, [illegible] to do.

1. SUBMIT. Go into the army when called. The government will do its best to turn you into a piece of military machinery whose only job is to kill and die on command. Many men who first submit to the army later desert or refuse to obey further orders.

2. EVADE LEGALLY. Staying in school with a 2-S deferment is the most common legal dodge. Someone else will be sent in your place. There are other deferments for which you may be eligible. The effect is the same. Many men have decided that in good conscience they could not accept a deferment.

3. EVADE ILLEGALLY. Faking a mental or physical disorder is not very hard. In many ways it's like getting a deferment; therefore, many men cannot conscientiously do it. Lots of men simply go into hiding. They have been driven "underground" by the draft. If caught, they are usually given a choice between the army and jail.

4. LEAVE THE COUNTRY. Thousands of men have gone to Canada or elsewhere to avoid the draft, just like those of our ancestors who left Europe to avoid conscription. Leaving the country effectively removes you from the American political process.

5. CONSCIENTIOUSLY OBJECT. Draft exemptions are given to some men who feel that war is wrong. They are called "conscientious objectors" and are drafted for only civilian service. (Another type of conscientious objector goes into the army as a non-combatant. That status is easier to get.) If you feel you qualify for this exemption you should contact an expert draft counsellor at once. Some men who are granted the exemption later decide they cannot cooperate with the draft at all. They therefore refuse the mandatory civilian service and go to jail instead.

6. RESIST. Refuse to register or refuse induction. You will face up to five years in federal prison, but you will be taking the strongest possible stand against the draft - not only for yourself, but for everyone. This open non-cooperation is the position of the Resistance.

The final decision is up to you. For further information on any of the above alternatives or for draft counselling, contact us. That's what we're here for.

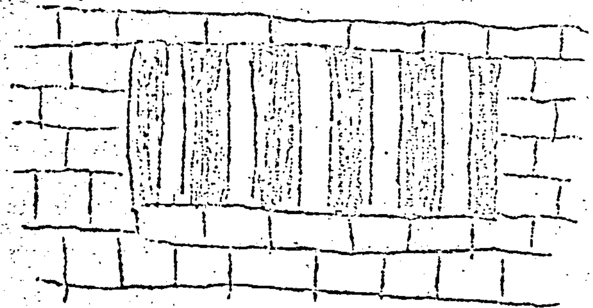
TAKING THE OFFENSIVE

In the past year or so, thousands of young men throughout the country have challanged the illegitimate war-making power of the government by openly violating the Selective Service law. Over three thousand men have returned their cards to the federal authorities, thereby forfeiting any safe draft exemption or deferment they may have held. A good number of these men have been classified 1-A and called for induction.

Other men have publicly burned their draft cards. Some women have burned cards given to them by male draft resisters. The U.S. Supreme Court recently upheld the law against draft card burning.

Many men have simply refused induction, or publicly refused to register for the draft.

NOTE - EACH ACT OF DRAFT RESISTANCE IS PUNISHABLE BY UP TO 5 YEARS IN JAIL AND/OR A $10,000 FINE.



THE RESISTANCE is a community of young men who refuse to cooperate with Selective Service. We do not hide or leave the country, but openly fight to make "peace" and "freedom" meaningful words - in face of Vietnam, Detroit, and other mechanized murder. The Resistance organized mass drfat card returns of October 16 and December 4, 1967 and April 3, 1968 (when Vietnam peace hopes were high!), as well as many smaller card returns and burnings. The Resistance also has organized support for men who refuse induction and for men who refuse to register.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS BEGUN TO MOVE AGAINST THE RESISTANCE. Draft resisters are coming to trial and going to jail. Some have even been arrested out of church sanctuaries. The most effective response to the government is to organize more resistance every time one of us is taken. We must show that neither the Spock convictions, nor the Supreme Court rulings, nor the imprisonment of draft resisters can deter us. Prosecutions shall lead to even more resistance. We shall resist until there is no war, until there is no draft, and until America is truly peaceful and free!

Brother, if you are ready to burn or return your draft card at the trial, sentencing, imprisonment, or induction refusal of a draft resister, contact us now.

Next nation-wide, mass draft card return: November 14, 1968.

21 July 1968

Dear F.O.R. Friend,

The New York Resistance is facing a grave financial crisis. If we do not receive financial assistance immediately our operations will have to be severly curtailed.

Although many people that they "see the light at the end of the tunnel" because of the current "peace negotiations", it is important to note that during the Korean War more men were killed after negotiations than before. This same situation is occuring in Vietnam now. For the first time men graduating from college will no longer be deferred for graduate school. These and other young men face the draft NOW!! Resistance work continues to be vital for all these men and for the development of enough political pressure to achieve the withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam.

Every day men are drafted. Many refuse induction. The Resistance office is only aware of approximately 20% of the men who have refused induction. We must have a full-time paid worker to do research in the court records to find the other 80%, who are isolated individuals and who may be in need of moral or legal help. We must continue helping draft resisters with bail and court costs. These expenses are very excessive in New York.

The Resistance is also attempting, by examining draft board records, to contact and offer counselling to all men in the city who are I-A. We are reaching out to young people on their vacations at summer resorts and recreation spots.

We must have financial support to sustain and expand our program. We have about a dozen full-time people working in New York City. We are able to pay only 3 or 4 of them at present (pay amounts to $25 a week). Some of them will be forced to quit or get other jobs if they cannot be paid soon. Many people have indicated an interest in working for The Resistance if funds were avilable to pay them. Money is also needed for the routine projects presently functioning, and for office expenses such as rent, printing, telephones, postage, etc.

We must state again that The Resistance is desperate! You can help by sending a check made out to The Resistance at 5 Beekman St., Room 1025, N.Y.C. 10038. You can help us raise money by contacting friends. We will send a resister to speak informally to small groups about our activities. PLEASE HELP!!

Sincerely,

Lenny Brody
The Resistance

the resistance

The Resistance is a community of young people who refuse to cooperate in any way with the Selective Service System. We accept no deferments, carry no draft cards, and refuse to submit to induction. In doing so, we have directly challenged the illegitimate war-making power our government has taken for itself. As a result, we of the Resistance face prison-not as an end, but as a consequence of our acts.

On October 16 and December 4, 1967, and April 3, 1968 (when Vietnam peace hopes were high), the Resistance organized collective, nationwide actions in which over 3,000 men returned their draft cards to the federal authorities, thus renouncing any safe deferments they held. Many of these men have been reclassified 1-A and called for induction. In addition, the Resistance includes men who publicly refused to register upon turning eighteen, soldiers who have publicly gone AWOL or refused to obey orders, recognized conscientious objectors who have refused to perform their required civilian work in lieu of induction, men who have publicly burned their draft cards, and would-be inductees who simply refused to go. Each of us has his own personal reasons for resisting, but all members of the Resistance stand together as brothers.

We resist the draft because we must live our lives in face of Vietnam, Detroit, and other mechanized murder. We will neither hide nor leave the country. We reject the oppressive and totalitarian nature of the Selective Service System. We refuse to accept an institution which controls and directs the lives of young men, not allowing them to choose the paths their own lives will take. We must speak for ourselves and for our brothers whose voices aren't heard. For our more than 25,000 brothers who have been killed in a senseless war and those living GI's who want to come home in one piece. For our brothers in the ghetto who must live in the constant shadow of the police and national guard. For our Vietnamese brothers whose huts lie in the path of American bombers. For our 800 brothers imprisoned for draft resistance. For our thousands of brothers who have been driven from their homeland by the draft. For our brothers graduating from high school and college into khaki uniforms. For our millions of brothers around the world who simply wish to lead their lives in peace and dignity.

The government has begun to move against the Resistance. Trials of draft resisters are becoming more and more frequent. Some men have even been arrested out of church sanctuaries. But still the Resistance continues. Every time one of us is taken, more men choose to cut their ties to Selective Service. We must show that neither the Spock convictions, nor the Supreme Court ruling on draft card burning, nor the imprisonment of draft resisters can deter us. We must make "peace" and "freedom" more than a politician's rhetoric. We must resist until there is no war, until there is no draft, and until America has been liberated!

If you are ready to return or publicly destroy your draft card, contact us at once. The next nation-wide draft card return is November 14, 1968. Before then, there will be smaller Resistance actions at the induction refusals, trials, and imprisonments of draft resisters.

Brother, join us. Fight for your own humanity.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION

On July 4th, 1776, a few "left-wing pseudo-intellectuals" got together and told their legal government to go to Hell. They were immediately branded as radicals and members of the lunatic fringe. Most of their fellow citizens were either openly hostile to their cause or apathetic. These radicals were mostly young men, idealistically motivated but practical enough to realize that they would have to fight against tremendous odds if their cause was to triumph. Here is an excerpt from their Declaration of Independence:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; That whenever any form of Government becomes destructive of these ends it is the Right of the People to alter or abolish it."

The young American radicals of 1776 had a dream of freedom, they fought to make that dream a reality. Now, 192 years later, we have a government which is callously depriving its citizens of Life and Liberty and forbiding the pursuit of any form of Happiness except the dollar. The dream of 1776 has been corrupted and perverted into a cold-blooded power-worshiping nightmare. Today more than ever, we should remember what the radicals of 1776 said about government: "...it is the Right of the People to alter or abolish it."

the thirteenth amendment

"Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction."

For all the brothers around the world who simply wish to lead their lives in peace and dignity.

The RESISTANCE is a community of young people who refuse to cooperate in any way with the Selective Service System. We accept no deferments, carry no draft cards, and refuse to submit to induction. In addition, the Resistance inclueds men who publicly refuse to register upon turning 18, soldiers who have publicly gone AWOL or refused to obey orders, recognized conscientious objectors who have refused to perform their required civilian work in lieu of induction, men who have publically burned their draft cards, and would-be inductees who simply refused to go. In doing these things we are directly challenging the illegitimate war-making power of our government has taken for itself.

The government has begun to move against the Resistance. Trials of draft resisters are becoming more frequent. Some resisters have been arrested and dragged from church sanctuaries. Everytime one of us is taken, more men choose to cut their ties to Selective Service. We must make "peace" and "freedom" more than politician's rhetoric. We must resist until there is no war, no draft, no oppression of our brothers and sisters.

If you are ready to return or publicaly destroy your draft card, contact us NOW. We will be in Chicago during the convention to collect draft cards to deliver to the Democratic Party nominee for President. JOIN US BROTHER IN OUR FIGHT FOR OUR HUMANITY.

THE FALL OFFENSIVE

President [illegible], late in March, found himself in a pot of boiling oil and, faced with the [illegible] of withdrawal from Vietnam or the elections he was forced by political pressures to withdraw from the latter. The oil had reached its boiling point and he [illegible] to get out. The heat had been created by student and adult draft resistance, Dow and ROTC demonstrations, people booing, heckling and walking out on "political dignitaries". Thousands of people charging the Pentagon added to the heat and hundreds of thousands of people planning to be in Chicago to celebrate life and demnnstrate against a brand of democracy that was spelled out in lies, broken promises, distorted and misrepresented information, poverty, poor health, violent death and war for too many of our people added the finishing touch. The fires were raging and no end was in sight.

The oil must boil again this Fall and Winter. The pig that becomes the next president must know that he does not have four years to withdraw from Vietnam; with four years ahead a president he can not sacrifice himself to save the empire. Johnson's "Peace Negotiations" have knocked the steam out of many of his supporters. The war has increasingly lost its legitimacy. Former establishment fellow travelers will find it difficult to pick up and wave the same old pro-war banner.

The candidates all agree upon bombing and napalming Vietnamese people while these same Vietnamese attempt to redefine their existance. Genocide is the unspoken word on the forked tongue of our great white father figure. The indians knew something. The candidates relish in the thought that one of them may produce the military victory (by any means necessary) which is needed to preserve the "untarnished" record of the U.S. fighting forces. After the elections the draft calls will rise to unprecidented heights, U.S. troop strength will increase, and the millions of dollars worth of military contracts let in the last six months will be deployed. The war effort will increase.

The elections belong to the party bosses and the ruling class. The candidates are theirs. Their important issues are not our important issues. A recent Harris poll says 54% of the electorate would prefer someone other than the big three. The candidates created the false election issue of Law and Order and later found that 17% are opposed to law and order. They are the greatest violators of law and order that the country has produced and we know it.

In order to reboil the oil we must work exceedingly hard from now to the election period and on through the winter to the inaguration. We must raise the issue of the war and militarism where ever possible.

PROPOSALS

We propose 1) anti-war confrontations with the candidates on all fronts, on all occasions. They refuse to deal with the war. They must be shown as frauds. A majority of the electorate would rather see someone other than the present candidates be the next president.

2) On election day New York people will mass at NIXON's polling place to demonstrate against the war, turn-in draft cards and witness a small fraction of a fraudulant electoral campaign. We will strike against the elections, we will not go to school; we will vote NO for HUMPHREY/NIXON/WALLACE.

BEST POSSIBLE IMAGE.

3) We must all work dilligently to make the November 14 draft card turn-in the largest in the recorded history. Men and women will chant "End the draft" and return their cards. We will listen to Country Joe and the Fish and lay plans for the invasion of Washington D.C. on the days preceeding inaugration day. A new breed of men and women will be born-men and women-children of the NEW AGE.

4) Resistance supporters on campuses must help plan and carry out actions against military recruiters and corporate recruiters connected with war production. The obvious can not be forgotten but neither can the vague or tangentially connected firms.

5) Clergy must be encouraged to speak out on Nov. 3rd against the war, against the draft, and for the GI's right to vote to come home. Resisters who are seminarians or others who have clergical interests should go from church to church attempting to have ministers, priests and rabbies speak out before the elections.

6) Be in Washington, D.C. on January 20 for inaguration day. The new president will not be YOUR president. He will not feel the war as you do. He will not attempt to purge white America of its racism and militaristic suppression of poor people at home and abroad. He will not feel the draft. He will not lead us in a new direction. The next president will be "immune" from public pressure for four years much like Johnson. Be in Washington to tell him what you think.

The Resistance is a community of young Americans fighting the draft. We are fighting a system that sends young men to kill and die for a cause that is not their own. We urge all young men to resist the draft by returning their draft cards and refusing induction. We will help all these young men. We are making available all the information we have on draft alternatives in the hope that draft age men may benefit from it. We will counsel you on any of the alternatives. The final decision rests with you.

The Resistance and its support groups will help anyone who wants to refuse induction with lawyers and bail. Several thousand men from all parts of the country are already resisting the draft, and every day the numbers grow.

Just remember, it's your life and your choice. You don't have to let them push you around. You don't have to go.

FEELING THE DRAFT?

Here are the alternatives.

THE RESISTANCE

5 Beekman St., Rm. 1025, N.Y., N.Y. 10038—212 RE 2-4272

The draft law is very complicated, and the draft board and the army don't tell you what your rights are.

There are legal deferments to the draft. Do not assume that you do not qualify for one or more of these deferments until you have had draft counseling.

A "yes" answer to any of these questions MAY defer you temporarily or permanently from the draft.

3-A Do you have any children or help support any relative? Is any member of your family emotionally or physically ill and dependent on you?

2-A Are you employed in a critical or essential occupation? Would your employer have a hard time replacing you if you were drafted? For example, teachers, machinists, etc.

1-Y, 4-F Have you ever had any physical or mental problem, or do you have a police record?

1-S, 2-S Are you under 20 years old and a student in high school, or under 24 and a student in college (undergraduate)?

1-O, 1-A-O Are you opposed to all war? You may qualify to be a conscientious objector if you feel that war is wrong. The C.O. deferment is open to both religious and non-religious men.

You have 30 days to appeal the loss of any classification, (2-S, 1-Y, etc.). An appeal will delay your induction.

There are several thousand young Americans who have emigrated to Canada because of the draft and the war in Vietnam.

Hundreds of men are refusing induction into the armed forces—you should know the legal status and legal defenses of induction refusal.

Never assume that you cannot be helped. Expert counseling service is available to you at the groups listed on the reverse side of this card.

Never wait until the last minute to take action on your draft situation. The sooner you see a counselor, the better your chance of getting the deferment you feel you are entitled to.

The delegates were told that it would be reasonable to assume that the young socialists attracted into this new organization would eventually pass into the CP itself.

NEW YORK COUNCIL TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE aka

On March 9, 1961, a source advised that the New York Council to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NYCAUAC), 150 West 34th Street, New York City, New York, was formed at a meeting held in New York City on November 17, 1960. This organization was founded principally through the efforts of FRANK WILKINSON, Field Representative of the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC).

ROBERT RONSTADT, 20515 Tiara Street, Woodland Hills, California, a former member of the Communist Party (CP) in Los Angeles, California, from 1946 to 1952, who furnished information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1949 to 1952, advised on September 17, 1952, that FRANK WILKINSON was a member of the Los Angeles County CP as of September, 1952.

A second source furnished on September 14, 1961, a copy of resolutions of the New York Council to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NYCAHUAC) which were adopted by the NYCAHUAC. One such resolution affirmed the intention to continue to work for the abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA) and to continue its efforts to broaden the participation in this fight. Another resolution accepted as a modus vivendi the suggestion of the Field Representative of the "National Committee to Abolish the HCUA," (NCAHUAC) namely that local abolition committees may identify and coordinate their efforts as closely as they desire with NCAHUAC, still maintaining their autonomy for as flexible and independent a program as possible.

A third, fourth and fifth source have advised during March, 1962, that CP members in the New York City area have been solicited to support activities of the NYCAHUAC during attendance at CP club meetings.

A sixth source advised that at an Executive Board meeting of NYCAHUAC held January 7, 1965, a letter from NCAHUAC was read which disclosed that NYCAHUAC is no longer connected in any way with the NCAHUAC.

NEW YORK COUNCIL TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE aka (CONT'D)

On April 15, 1966, the sixth source advised that the NYCAHUAC was dissolved on December 15, 1965. The sixth source stated that the NYCAHUAC had turned over all abolition work in the New York City area to the NCAHUAC who had established an organization in New York City known as the New York Friends of the NCAHUAC.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO ABOLISH THE HOUSE UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", issued December 1, 1961, by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Page 115, contains the following citation regarding the National Committee to Abolish the Un-American Activities Committee (NCAUAC):

> "Cited as a 'new organization' set up in the Summer of 1960 to lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign. Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as communists."
> "(Committee on Un-American Activities, House Report 1278 on the Truth About the Film 'Operation Abolition', Part I, October 3, 1961, Page 5)"

A source has advised that the NCAUAC changed its name on March 3, 1962, to include the word "House" in its name, thereby becoming known as the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee (NCAHUAC). A national meeting of this organization was held in Chicago, Illinois, on April 27 and 28, 1963.

A second source advised on May 1, 1968, that as of that date the NCAHUAC continued to function with headquarters at 555 North Western Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

HARLEM COUNCIL FOR PEACE
Also known as Central
Harlem Committee on Viet Nam

A source on January 10, 1966, advised that the idea for the meeting and formation of the Central Harlem Committee on Viet Nam, which met on January 9, 1966, in New York City, was conceived at a Communist Party meeting held on December 18, 1965, between representatives of the Communist Party, United States of America, New York District and Harlem Region, Communist Party. On January 21, 1966, the same source advised the Committee had now adopted the name of the Harlem Council For Peace (HCFP).

A second source on February 10, 1966, furnished a circular issued by HCFP, self-characterizing itself as an ad hoc committee formed by a group of concerned people representing several organizations.

The first source, on January 17, 1966, advised that the purpose of the group is to foster sentiment against the Viet Nam War.

A third source, on February 1, 1966, furnished a draft of proposed literature for the HCFP. This draft listed the following aims and purposes of the organization:

1. The War Against Poverty in Harlem.
2. The liberation of non-white people here in the United States.
3. The right of free expression as guaranteed by the constitution of the United States.

The first source on May 10, 1966, advised that the HCFP was located at 357 Lenox Avenue, New York City.

A fourth source advised on October 10, 1966, that as of that date the HCFP was defunct.

NATIONAL EMERGENCY CIVIL LIBERTIES COMMITTEE, Formerly Known As Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications", revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., contains the following concerning the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee:

"Emergency Civil Liberties Committee

"1. 'The Emergency Civil Liberties Committee is an organization with headquarters in New York, whose avowed purpose is to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities and discredit the FBI. * * * The committee finds that the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee, established in 1951, although representing itself as a non-Communist group, actually operates as a front for the Communist Party. It has repeatedly assisted, by means of funds and legal aid, Communists involved in Smith Act violations and similar legal proceedings. One of its chief activities has been and still is the dissemination of voluminous Communist propaganda material.'

'FRANK WILKINSON was called as a witness when he appeared in Atlanta as a representative of the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee to propagandize against the Committee on Un-American Activities and to protest its hearings. In 1956 WILKINSON was identified as a Communist Party member by a former FBI undercover agent within the Party. Summoned at that time to answer the allegation, his reply to all questions was, "I am answering no questions of this committee." This also became his stock reply to questions when he appeared during the Atlanta hearings. * * * WILKINSON has since been convicted of contempt of Congress and sentenced to one year in jail.'

'Disputing the non-Communist claim of the organization, the committee finds that a number of other individuals connected with the ECLC also have been identified under oath as Communists.* * *' (Committee on Un-American Activities, Annual Report for 1958, House Report 187, March 9, 1959, pp. 34 and 35.)

"2. 'To defend the cases of Communist law-breakers, fronts have been devised making special appeals in behalf of civil liberties and reaching out far beyond the confines of the Communist Party itself. Among these organizations are the * * * Emergency Civil Liberties Committee. When the Communist Party itself is under fire these fronts offer a bulwark of protection.' (Internal Security Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Handbook for Americans, S. Doc. 117, April 23, 1956, p. 91.)"

"The New York Times", a New York City daily newspaper, in its April 1, 1968, issue, page 13, contained an item captioned, "Draft Dissenters to Get More Help", which related that at a news conference held by the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (ECLC) on the previous day, it was announced that the organization was changing its name to the National Emergency Civil Liberties Committee (NECLC) "to reflect our determination to develop a vital national civil liberties organization in all 50 states as rapidly as possible."

A source advised on June 13, 1968, that the NECLC is located at 25 East 26th Street, New York City.

PITTSBURGH VETERANS FOR PEACE (PVP)

On July 10, 1967, a source advised that on July 5, 1967, the first meeting of 12 men took place in Pittsburgh, and the name of the organization was adopted as Pittsburgh Veterans for Peace. Paul Kleindorfer was in charge of the meeting and was elected Chairman. The immediate goals were: work with Vietnam Summer Committee; work toward peace in Vietnam and any other war wherever the United States is involved; build a strong and large PVP organization; to send a Veterans for Peace contingent to the march on Washington in October, 1967; and to bring in high ranking military men to speak out against the war in Vietnam.

The source stated a constitution was adopted September 12, 1967, and the address of the PVP is Box 186, Carnegie-Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213.

According to the source, the officers of the PVP as of May 23, 1967, were Paul Kleindorfer, Commander; Roger Reed, Vice Commander; Tiastor Luokkala, Secretary, and Louis Bortz, Treasurer. The source has reported periodic meetings have been held since the inception and have been attended by 12 to 19 men, and that PVP has sponsored a "military speak-out" October 12, 1967, at Pittsburgh, attended by 200 persons with Rear Admiral Arnold E. True and Brigadier General William Ford, both retired, as speakers who criticized the United States' policies and activities in Vietnam. The PVP has 95 persons listed on the books; however, 45 are paid up members.

According to "Pittsburgh Point," a weekly Pittsburgh newspaper, the PVP was represented at the National Conference for New Politics held Labor Day weekend, 1967, at Chicago, Illinois, by Arthur Edelman.

On September 25, 1967, a second source advised that as of that date Louis Bortz was a member of the District Committee of the Communist Party of Western Pennsylvania (CPWP) and Chairman of the North Side Club, CPWP.

On March 12, 1967, the second source advised Arthur Edelman was as of that date a leading member of the Executive Committee of the CPWP.

On Thursday, October 24, 1968, I attended a lecture given by David Harris of the Resistance. The lecture was hosted by the Young Democrats and was held in Communications Room #308 at El Camino College. The lecture lasted from 11:00 am until 12:00 noon.

David (or Richard?) Harris is a leader of the Resistance in California. He is former student body president of Stanford University and achieved some national acclaim when he refused induction over a year ago in Oakland precipitating the Oakland "draft riots". Mr. Harris recieved a three year sentence for his refusal to be inducted and I beleive he is currently out on appeal. He is married to folk singer Joan Baez. After the lecture I spoke with David Harris and he informed me that he was speaking all over California to stimulate interest in the Resistance. He informed me that he had given over fifty speeches in the last two weeks.

A summary of Mr. Harris'es speech at El Camino follows:
He started out by exposing the draft as man-power channeling and pointed out the evils that it had incurred on the United States and the rest of the world including Vietnam. Next he gave examples of how the system was failing and how the selective service system was failing. He then advised people that the only way to rid America of the draft was a policy of total non-complicity with the draft. Mr. Harris ended his lecture by telling how the entire country, including the selective service system, would be overthrown by passive resistance such as was used to rid India of the British.

About 150 persons crowded into the room to hear David Harris, he seems to have a tremendous rapport with many young people. The crowd can be broken down as follows. Approximately one-third of the crowd were the less radical faction of HEP and the "radical" part of the Young Democrats. One-third was from El Camino's non political "hip" community. And about one-third of the crowd consisted of normal looking El Camino students.

The lecture of Mr. David Harris may stir up some anti-draft action on campus and perhaps the formation of a Resistance group as the lecture was very well recieved and I was plagued with questions concerning the draft all that day.

CONTEXT:

The dominant theme was the reading of a "10 Point" plan to bring an end to the suppression of the minorities, the gathering of signatures for this petition and at about 1300 hrs this petition was presented to Dean Lewis, Dean of Students, and read to him in a very insulting and provoking manner. When the Dean wouldn't promise to immediately meet the demands, Bebo, aka Mike, then became extremely vulgar toward the dean in the presence of about 50 students outside of his office. Had emotions been running as high, here, as they apparently were at Valley State, the fourth, I am relatively certain that Bebo's affront on Dean Lewis would have been adequate to incite to riot or at very least the taking of a building or two. Steve Mandell then said to the Dean that if the demands weren't satisfied by the administration that we'd'be back to take them', or words to this effect. ALL

Mark Rudd talked the oppression line that is characteristic of SDS; Berland introduced himself as a member of the CP and got a fair amount of applause, intellectualized for a few minutes and then said 'the people must take back the power from the imperialist government and stop oppression' or words to that effect; the aforementioned SDS Officer then took the mic of the PA system and said "...we are going to walk down the streets...we're going to educate the people..." Leafleting was conducted in the streets and in the sidewalks from the Square to the Federal Building. From the Federal Building the marchers went to the Police Station and were very quickly turned away at the front door, at a run! Marchers then returned to Pershing Square. I picked up a ride with Paul Desten, Jan, Howard and Jim. We went down to the SDS office (what a dump) at 510½ N. Hoover, Los Angeles. From there the five of us went to Jim's apartment. (Ref Pg 3.) SEDITION

Enclosed for each recipient is a copy of a "Manual for Draft-Age Immigrants to Canada" published by the Toronto Anti-Draft Programme and a four page "Memorandum On: Emigration to Canada and Europe" published by the National Lawyers Guild in New York City.

Various groups throughout the U.S. using the name "The Resistance," or some variation thereof, are engaged in efforts to disrupt U.S. military programs. The activities of these groups take various forms including counseling in ways to evade induction; promoting and providing information concerning leaving the U.S. to take up residence in other countries to avoid military service; encouraging desertion or disobedience to military directives; and outright assistance to deserters such as making available lodging and travel accommodations in fleeing the U.S. to avoid return to military duty.

The Internal Security Division of the Department has requested investigation concerning such groups to determine possible violations of the sedition statute as well as the deserter-harboring statute. The Internal Security Division has expressed a particular interest in determining if there is an over-all conspiracy among various groups to cause refusal of duty in the armed forces and/or to entice, assist or harbor deserters.

The Department of the Army in a recent letter commented upon the value of intelligence information furnished by the Bureau relating to the above matters. In the same letter, the Army advised that by the end of 1969 they anticipate one of every five inductees will be a college graduate. The Army fully expects resistance problems to multiply with the increased number of inductees exposed to such activities, or actively engaged in same, while in college. The Army has solicited the Bureau's continued assistance in furnishing pertinent intelligence information relating to such matters.

To meet the dual responsibility of providing the intelligence community, particularly the military services, with pertinent information concerning efforts by groups and individuals to cause refusal of duty, disruption of military activity and desertion from the armed forces, and at the same time to collate pertinent information concerning such activity for the Department's use in prosecutive consideration, the following instructions are to be implemented:

Within 60 days of the date of this letter each office is to submit a report (10 copies to the Bureau) under the above caption which will include specific information relating to each of the items enumerated below.

(1) The name of each resistance-type organization presently active within your division, a very concise summary of background of the organization, a listing of the current officers and activists, and its current activities. It will not be necessary to summarize past activities. Each organization should comprise a separate section of the report beginning on a separate page.

(2) All indications of cooperation between such groups whether within your division or other divisions including contacts outside the U.S. The methods of communication should be explored with particular emphasis on the key individuals acting in a leadership capacity.
